AUTHORITY OF VFEX

Listing committee

6. (1) The VFEX shall appoint a listings committee consisting of at least three non-executive board members.

(2) The committee may co-opt such a number of technical experts as it deems fit for the purposes of executing its functions.

(3) The listings committee shall undertake the detailed execution of the functions of the VFEX provided for in Rule 5(1).

(4) Issues of procedures at meetings and quorum will be provided in the procedure manual.

Annual revision of official list

7. (1) All listings must be reviewed and revised by the VFEX annually after receipt by the VFEX of a certificate from each issuer complying with the Eighteenth Schedule ("the certificate") by not later than the 31st January in each year ("the due date").

(2) If the certificate is not received by the VFEX on or before the due date—

(a) the VFEX must send the issuer a letter of reminder on the next business day following the due date, requesting the issuer to rectify the situation and provide the VFEX with the certificate within fourteen days from the date of the reminder, failing which the issuer must make written representations to the VFEX within seven calendar days thereafter as to why the securities should not be suspended and subsequently terminated; and

(b) failing compliance within fourteen calendar days of despatch of the reminder to the issuer in terms of paragraph (a), the VFEX must publish an announcement in two national newspapers and on the VFEX Data Portal, the cost of which is to be borne by the issuer, informing holders of securities that the issuer has not provided the VFEX with the certificate, and cautioning holders that the listing of the securities concerned are under threat of suspension and possible termination; and

(c) the issuer will be invoiced the cost, payable on presentation, of the publication of the announcement; and

(d) if the certificate is not submitted and no representations are received in accordance with paragraph (a), or any representations that are received are unsatisfactory, the listing of the relevant securities will be suspended in terms of Rule 9, and the suspension will only be lifted upon receipt by the VFEX of the certificate.

Power of censure

8. (1) Where the VFEX considers that an issuer has contravened these rules, it may, without derogating from its powers of suspension or termination, censure the issuer by way of a written warning, or by public censure and publication, or both by notification seven days before.

(2) Where the VFEX finds that an issuer or any of an issuer's directors has contravened these rules, the VFEX may, without derogating from its powers of suspension or termination, do all or any of the following—

(3) In the case of wilful or persistent non-compliance with the listings requirements by an issuer's directors, the VFEX may state publicly that, in its opinion, the retention of office by the directors concerned is prejudicial to the interests of investors.

(4) Unless the VFEX considers that the maintenance of the smooth operation of the market or the protection of investors otherwise requires, it must give advance notice to the parties involved of any action which it proposes to take and, at the same time, give them an opportunity to make representations to the VFEX.

Unilateral suspension

9. (1) If in the opinion of the VFEX—

(a) it is desirable in the public interest to do so; or

(b) an issuer has failed to comply with these rules; or

(c) in order to reduce systemic risk, promote market integrity and investor confidence, prevent market manipulation, fraud and financial crime and ensure transparency in capital and securities markets

the VFEX may suspend the listing of an issuer's securities and impose such conditions as it considers appropriate for the lifting of such suspension.

(2) Where the VFEX finds grounds for suspension, it shall notify the issuer of pending suspension to afford the issuer an opportunity to make representations to the VFEX in support of the continued listing of its securities.

(3) Where the VFEX finds no merit in the representations made by the issuer, it must suspend the listing unilaterally.

(4) Where an issuer's listing is suspended, and the issuer fails to take action to obtain the restoration thereof within one hundred and eighty days, the VFEX may terminate the listing in accordance with Rule 12 (termination initiated by VFEX).

Suspension on request

10. The VFEX may grant a request for the suspension of any listed securities—

(a) where the issuer is placed under provisional liquidation or under corporate rescue; or

(a) it is in the public interest to do so; or

Provided that VFEX may grant the request for termination, but the securities may be removed from the official list only if the listed company's security holders in a general meeting have approved the removal.

(3) An issuer which has applied for the removal of its securities from the official list must send a circular to its shareholders giving reasons for the proposed termination. The circular must comply with the requirements of Rule 275 (contents of all circulars).

(4) The VFEX may grant an application for termination if—

(a) before making the application to terminate the listing, the company has obtained the security holders' approval in a general meeting called for that purpose; and

(b) the reasons for the termination are stated in the application.

(4) Where shareholders' approval is required, unless the VFEX otherwise decides, a seventy-five per centum vote of the votes of all shareholders present or represented by proxy at the general meeting, excluding any controlling shareholder, its associates and any party acting in concert, must be cast in favour of the resolution approving the termination.

(5) Shareholders' approval of the termination of the listing need not be sought, and a circular need not be sent to the holders of securities whose listing is intended to be terminated—

(a) where an issuers primary listing is on another exchange, and the issuer has followed the guidelines of the primary listing jurisdiction; and

(b) upon the completion of any transaction in connection with which a circular has been sent to holders of the securities containing notice of the intention to terminate the listing of the securities on or after the completion of the transaction, if the date for cancellation of the listing is not less than thirty days after the date of issue of the circular.

Removal from official list of redeemable preference shares or debentures

14. (1) Written application for the removal of redeemable preference shares or debentures, or the corresponding portion thereof, from the official list as and from the date of the closing of the registers or the date on which the redemption or repayment, as the case may be, took place (if preference shares or debentures are redeemed by drawings) must be made to the VFEX at least thirty calendar days before the date of redemption or repayment.

(2) The application must be accompanied by a copy of the proposed announcement and the circular to be issued to the redeemable preference shareholders or debenture holders notifying them of the redemption or repayment.

Application of fines

15. The whole or part of any fines levied by the VFEX on issuers or their directors must be applied to the meeting of any costs incurred by the VFEX in enforcing these listing requirements.

(2) The VFEX may require an issuer to publish or disseminate any further information not specified in these rules in such form and within such period as it considers appropriate. (4) The VFEX may at any time and in its discretion publish on its website or authorise the proprietor or publisher of any newspaper or periodical to publish any statement made in terms of subrule (1) and (2). 25. In the case of a new applicant, the sponsor must, before the application for listing is made, report to the VFEX in writing that it has obtained written confirmation from the issuer or its advisers that the directors have established procedures which provide a reasonable basis for them to make proper judgments as to the financial position and prospects to the issuer and its group of companies and that this confirmation has been given after due and careful enquiry by the issuer.

Profit forecast

26. Where a profit forecast appears in listing particulars, a Category 1 circular or any circular containing proposals to be put to shareholders in general meeting concerning a refinancing or reconstruction of the issuer or its group of companies, the sponsor must report in writing to the VFEX that it has made due and careful enquiry of the issuer and its advisers that the forecast or estimate has been properly made.

(2) Notwithstanding this Rule, the VFEX may, in appropriate circumstances, communicate directly with the issuer or with any other sponsor of the issuer, in addition to its sponsor, on matters of principle which may arise prior to the submission of draft documents or on the interpretation of these rules. Where discussions take place without the involvement of the sponsor, the issuer or the issuer's adviser must inform the sponsor about the matters discussed as soon as practicable.

(3) No information concerning meetings referred to in this Rule may be released through any media platform without the prior consent of the VFEX.

Action against sponsor

30. (1) Where a sponsor is in breach of its responsibilities or fails to comply with any requirement set out in this Part, such sponsor shall be liable to a penalty specified in the Thirtieth Schedule.

(2) In addition to the penalty outlined in subrule (1), the VFEX may—

Responsibilities of sponsors

31. The requirements relating to the registration of sponsors are an integral part of the regulation of the VFEX, and it is essential that sponsors assist the VFEX in upholding the integrity of the market.

PART III

It also sets out certain of the continuing obligations which an issuer is required to observe once any of its securities have been admitted to listing.

(2) This Part does not apply to issuers of specialist securities except where issuers are specifically referred to in this Part and as indicated in the continuing obligations in Rule 387 of Part XVIII.

(a) any circumstance or event that is or is likely to have a material effect, whether positive or negative, on the financial results, financial position or cash flow of the issuer or any of its material subsidiaries;

(b) any new development in such issuer's sphere of activity that is not public knowledge and may, by virtue of the effect of that development on its financial results, financial position or cash flow or on the general course of its business, lead to material movements of the reference price of the issuer's listed securities; and

(c) any information necessary to enable holders of the issuer's securities and the public to avoid the creation of a false market in such issuer's listed securities.

(2) Issuers must publish a profit warning statement as soon as they are satisfied that a reasonable degree of certainty exists that the financial results for the period next to be reported upon will differ by at least twenty per centum from the most recent of base information which is—

(a) the financial results for the previous corresponding period;

(b) a profit forecast in terms of Part VIII (financial information) previously provided to the market in relation to such period.

(3) Issuers may publish a trading statement if the differences referred to in subrule (2) are less than twenty per centum but are considered by the issuer important enough to be made the subject of a trading statement.

(4) The determination of a reasonable degree of certainty in terms of subrule (2) is a matter of judgment which has to be taken by the issuer and its directors and is one in which the VFEX does not involve itself. This determination may differ from issuer to issuer depending on the nature of the business and the factors to which they are exposed.

(5) Trading statements must provide specific guidance by the inclusion of a specific number or percentage to describe the differences.

(6) In the event of an issuer publishing a trading statement in subrule (3), the issuer must include a statement (which is not deemed to be a cautionary statement and which does not give rise to the commencement of a closed period) in the trading statement advising securities holders that the forecast financial information has not been reviewed and reported upon by the issuer's auditors.

(7) The profit warning and trading statements shall be published at least twenty-one days before the publication of results. Where an issuer—

(a) publishes information without VFEX approval; or

(b) publishes misleading information; or

(c) makes late notification or disclosure of material information as required under subrule (1), it shall be liable to the fines outlined in the Thirtieth Schedule.

(8) Except where otherwise expressly provided, the provisions of this Rule are in addition to any specific requirements regarding obligations of disclosure contained in these rules.

Confidentiality

35. (1) Information that must be published according to Rule 34 (material price sensitive information) may not be given to a third party before it has been published except as permitted by subrules (3) to (6), or released (even subject to a time embargo) to any third party—

(a) during VFEX trading hours, until the information has been published; or

(b) outside VFEX trading hours, until the information has been authenticated and approved, and arrangements have been made for the information to be published before the next business day's opening of VFEX trading hours; and

(c) any such information which is to be released during analysts' briefings must first be submitted to the VFEX in accordance with the Twenty-third Schedule (corporate action and other regulatory information submission).

(2) Where information referred to in subrule (1) is released to a printer for printing before publication, the issuer must ensure the printer signs a confidentiality agreement with the issuer by prohibiting the disclosure of the information before its publication in terms of these rules.

(3) An issuer may give information in strict confidence to its sponsor or advisers and to persons with whom it is negotiating with a view to effecting a transaction or raising finance. These persons may include prospective underwriters of an issue of securities, providers of funds or loans or the place of the balance of a rights issue not taken up by shareholders. In such cases, the issuer must advise, in writing, the recipients of such information that it is confidential and that they must not deal in the company's securities before the relevant information has been made available to the public.

(4) Where information relates to a proposal by the issuer which is subject to negotiations with employees or trade union representatives, the issuer may defer publication of the information until an agreement has been reached on the implementation of the proposal.

(5) Where it is proposed to announce at any meeting of holders of listed securities information which might have a material effect on the ruling price of the listed company's securities, arrangements must be made for the publication of that information simultaneously with the publication by way of electronic media announcements as soon as possible after the announcement at the meeting is made. If any price-sensitive information is disclosed in an unplanned manner during the course of a meeting of holders of listed securities, immediate steps must be taken for the making of an appropriate announcement containing such price-sensitive information.

(6) Where—

(a) an issuer has any material price-sensitive information which could lead to material movements in the ruling price of its securities; and

(b) the necessary degree of confidentiality regarding the information cannot be maintained, or that confidentiality has or may have been breached;

the issuer must publish the information, by way of a cautionary announcement complying with Part XI, as soon as possible.

(7) An issuer must submit a copy of a cautionary announcement to the VFEX for approval in the form prescribed in the Twenty-third Schedule (corporate action and other regulatory information submission). Once such approval has been obtained, the issuer must publish the cautionary announcement in compliance with Part XI by way of an electronic media announcement on the issuer's website, and a copy of the same cautionary statement must also be published on the VFEX website.

(8) An issuer that has published a cautionary announcement must publish updates in terms of Part XI.

(9) Where an issuer fails to publish updates as stated in subrule (9), it shall be liable to a fine prescribed in the Thirtieth Schedule.

(10) If the directors of an issuer consider that disclosure to the public of information required to be published in terms of Rule 34 (material price-sensitive information) might prejudice the listed company's legitimate interests, the VFEX may grant a dispensation from that requirement.

SUB-PART B

DISCLOSURE OF PERIODIC FINANCIAL INFORMATION

Dividends and interest

36. (1) Announcements of dividends or interest payments on listed securities should be notified to the holders of the relevant securities within five days after a declaration by means of an announcement published on both the issuer and VFEX's websites, in accordance with the Twenty-third Schedule at least fourteen days before the last day to register.

(8) At least fourteen days' notice must be given to shareholders and the VFEX before the last day to register for the dividend or interest.

(9) The last day to register should be a Friday, or if that day is a public holiday, the previous business day.

(10) Unless there is just cause, payment of dividend or interest must be effected within 42 days after the last day to register, failure to which the issuer shall be liable to a penalty in terms of the Thirtieth Schedule (fines and penalty charges on listed companies).

(11) Where a dividend or interest declaration is expressed as a percentage, the monetary equivalent must be shown in parentheses.

(12) Where there is a late declaration of a dividend by the issuer, the issuer must notify the VFEX in order to propose a new timeframe, which requires VFEX's approval.

(6) If during the course of a review of an interim report, the auditor becomes aware of any unresolved matter which could result in the qualification of the auditor's report on the annual financial statements for the period under review, that fact must be stated in the interim report.

(7) Where the financial period covers more than twelve months and interim reports are distributed in accordance with rule 37, the listed company must obtain a review opinion for the second six-month period.

(8) The VFEX may, on good cause, waive the review of the interim in accordance with subrule (1).

Provided that the announcement may be delayed while marketing or underwriting is in progress;

(b) any proposed change in the rights attaching to any class of listed securities or to any securities into which any listed securities are convertible;

Provided that the issuer may, at its discretion, delay such publication until the obligation by the underwriter to take or procure others to take securities is finally determined or lapses.

(4) Cash company's investment shall acquire no less than ten per centum of equity of the company holding the viable asset and it must be eligible for prescribed asset status.

SUB-PART D

RIGHTS BETWEEN HOLDERS OF SECURITIES

Equality of treatment

45. (1) An issuer must ensure that all holders of any class of its securities receive fair and equal treatment.

(2) An issuer may not issue any securities with voting rights differing from those of other securities of the same class.

Pre-emptive rights

46. (1) Securities in each class for which listing is applied must rank pari-passu in respect of all rights, that is to say, the securities—

(a) must be identical in all respects;

(b) must carry the same rights as to unrestricted transfer, attendance and voting at general meetings and in all other respects; and

(c) must be entitled to dividends at the same rate and for the same period so that at the next distribution, the dividend payable on each share will be the same amount.

(2) Unless the security holders concerned otherwise permit, an issuer proposing to issue equity securities for cash must first offer those securities by a rights offer to existing equity shareholders in proportion to their existing holdings.

(3) Only to the extent that the securities are not taken up by existing equity shareholders in terms of the offer may they be issued for cash to others or otherwise than in the proportion mentioned in subrule (1).

Waiver of pre-emptive rights

47. (1) To the extent that security holders of an issuer give their authorisation by ordinary resolution, issues of equity securities for cash made otherwise than to existing shareholders in proportion to their existing holdings will, subject to Part IV (conditions for listing), be permitted for a fixed period in accordance with that authority.

(2) In exceptional circumstances, such as rescue operations, the VFEX may, in its discretion, allow a waiver of shareholders' pre-emptive rights that does not comply with subrule (1) if satisfied that the conditions listed in the Thirty-second Schedule exist, but the VFEX may require the publication of such information relating to the waiver as it may consider appropriate.

Profit warranties

48. (1) Where securities are the subject of a profit warranty, such securities may only be conditionally allotted and issued and must be held by an independent third party in trust, pending fulfilment of the conditions of the warranty. The conditions of the profit warranty will only be regarded as having been met once the profit required has been achieved in terms of the profit warranty agreements and the issuer's auditors have confirmed in writing to the VFEX that the conditions have been met for the securities to be allotted and issued.

(2) Where the conditions of a profit warranty are not met—

(a) the conditional allotment and issue of the securities that were subject to such unfulfilled conditions are of no further force or effect; and

(b) no cash compensation may be made for the profit warranty to be achieved.

Issues by major subsidiary other than on listing

49. (1) For the purposes of this Rule, a subsidiary company will be regarded as a major subsidiary if it represents twenty-five per centum or more of the aggregate of—

(a) the share capital and reserves, excluding any minority interests, unrealised reserves not supported by a valuation prepared in the last six months by an independent professional expert acceptable to the VFEX, and intangible assets; or

(b) the profits, after deducting all charges except taxation and excluding extraordinary items; of the issuer's group.

(2) An issuer must obtain the consent of its shareholders, determined in accordance with Part V (methods and procedures of bringing securities to listing) and categorised in terms of Part X (transactions with related parties), before any major subsidiary of the listed company makes any issue for cash of equity securities so as to materially dilute the listed company's percentage interest in the equity securities of that subsidiary.

(3) The obligation to obtain the consent of shareholders in subrule (2) does not apply if the major subsidiary is itself listed, but in that case—

(a) the major subsidiary must comply with subrule (1);

(b) the listed company must ensure that its equity interests in the major subsidiary are not materially diluted through any new cash issue by such subsidiary of equity securities unless such dilution is necessary for the listed subsidiary to satisfy the minimum spread requirements; and

(c) in the case of a rights issue, if the listed company does not propose to take up its rights, an arrangement must be made for the rights to be offered first to its shareholders so that they can avoid a material dilution in their effective percentage equity interests.

(4) The obligation to obtain the consent of shareholders in subrule (2) does not apply if the major subsidiary is unlisted and the issue takes the form of a rights issue to shareholders including the issuer. If the issuer does not propose to take up its rights, an arrangement must be made for the rights to be offered first to its shareholders so that they can avoid a material dilution of their effective percentage equity interests.

Options for cash

50. (1) Where options over securities, excluding executive and staff share schemes, are granted for cash, such options must be issued to all shareholders on the share register as on the business day immediately before the date of the grant of the listing in proportion to their shareholding in the listed company. Where this procedure is not to be adopted, the VFEX's consent should be obtained.

(2) The total number of options granted or issued may not, except in the case of a mineral company as defined in Part XII, exceed twenty per centum of the listed company's issued capital unless offered to all shareholders in proportion to their existing shareholdings.

Shareholder spread

51. (1) All listed companies are required to ensure that a minimum percentage of each class of securities is held by the public as provided in Rule 86 (main board listing criteria).

(2) If the percentage of a class of securities held by the public does not comply with the minimum spread requirements, the VFEX may suspend or terminate the listing of a company in accordance with Part I (authority of VFEX) and allow the company a period of ninety days to restore the percentage, unless that is precluded by the need to maintain the smooth operation of the market or in order to protect investors.

(3) A listing will not generally be granted to any issue of securities that would reduce the percentage level of securities held by the public.

(4) If an issuer does not comply with the minimum spread requirements, any application to list new securities will be granted only if, as a result of the issue, the minimum spread requirements will be achieved as far as possible, having regard to the size of the issue.

(5) The VFEX may, in its discretion, allow a reduction in the minimum spread requirements if it considers that such a reduction is in the best interests of the issuer and does not unduly prejudice investors, for example, in a rescue situation, provided that an acceptable plan to regularise the position is submitted to the VFEX.

Notification

52. (1) An issuer must inform the VFEX, in writing, within seven business days of it becoming aware that the proportion of any class of listed securities in the hands of the public has fallen below the minimum spread requirements.

(2) An issuer must, in regard to its securities held by the public, disclose in its annual financial statements—

(a) the number of members of the general public who hold securities in each class of its listed securities;

(b) the percentages of each class of securities held by members of the general public and other persons; and

(2) Applicants are required to submit to the VFEX, at an early date, any matter or unusual feature relating to the listing. (3) A high-voting security is one which confers on its holder, both at the proposed time of listing the instrument and subsequently, enhanced voting rights in comparison with the voting rights conferred on the holders of equity securities of the issuer already listed. The voting rights may be enhanced either with respect to the number of votes per security or with respect to the matters on which the holders of the securities may vote, or otherwise.

Notification of decision to repurchase

150. Where a company intends to make a proposal which is to be open to all holders in respect of all or part of their holdings, or to repurchase any of its securities other than equity shares, it must—

(a)ensure that no dealings in the relevant securities are carried out by or on behalf of the issuer or another member of its group, or its associate or subsidiary, until the proposal has either been submitted to the VFEX or abandoned; and

(b) notify the VFEX of its decision to repurchase unless the repurchase will consist of individual transactions in accordance with the terms of issue of the securities, whether for sinking fund purposes or otherwise.

Notification of repurchases, early redemptions and cancellations

151. (1) Any repurchases, early redemptions or cancellations of an issuer's securities, other than equity shares, by or on behalf of the company or any other member of the group of which the issuer is part, must be notified to the VFEX when an aggregate of three per centum of the initial number of the relevant class of securities has been purchased, redeemed or cancelled, and for each three per centum in aggregate of the initial number of that class acquired thereafter.

(2) The notification must contain the following information—

(a) the number of securities acquired, redeemed or cancelled since the last such notification; and

(b) the number of the class of securities which remain outstanding; and

(c) when the securities repurchased must be cancelled and their listing terminated, if applicable.

(3) A notification under subrule (1) must be made as soon as possible and in any event not later than 08:30 hours on the business day following the day on which the relevant threshold is reached or exceeded.

Period between repurchase and notification

152. In circumstances where a repurchase is not being made pursuant to a general offer announced in accordance with Rule 148 (Announcements following repurchase of securities) and the repurchase causes a relevant threshold in Rule 142 (repurchase of securities) to be reached or exceeded, no further repurchases may be effected until after notification in compliance with Rule 142 has been made.

Convertible securities

153. In the case of securities which are convertible into, exchangeable for, or carry a right to subscribe for equity securities, repurchases must not be made at a price more than five per centum above the weighted average of the market value for the securities for the five business days immediately preceding the date of repurchase unless a partial offer is made to all holders of that class of securities on the same terms.

Reduction of share capital

154. A company that wishes to reduce its share capital must—

(a) comply with the relevant provisions;

(b) obtain the approval of its shareholders in a general meeting held after the issue of a circular that includes a statement giving—

SUB-PART O

GENERAL

Exchange control approval

157. The VFEX will not approve an issue of securities unless it receives copies of any necessary authority from the Central Bank, giving a ruling regarding the use of funds introduced through normal banking channels from abroad or from a non-resident account or from an emigrant's blocked account relating to such issue.

Securities registered in name of nominee companies

158. (1) Where an issuer intends to enter into a transaction or scheme which may, in its effect, discriminate between shareholders who hold the issuer's securities beneficially through nominee companies and shareholders who hold the issuer's securities directly, the issuer must ensure that the nominee companies timeously provide it with lists, certified as correct by directors of the nominee companies, of the individual shareholdings of the beneficial shareholders as at the relevant record date, by number and name, in order to ensure that all shareholders in the issuer receive equal treatment.

(2) Subrule (1) applies to all issuer transactions which give rise to fractional entitlements, such as distributions in specie of, or subscriptions for, securities in subsidiary companies or capitalisation issues.

Share certificates

159. (1) The VFEX may require certificates or other documents of title to be issued on the day of listing of new securities or within seven days from the date of lodgement of the certificates for transfer or splitting.

(2) All applicants who have not adopted certified transfer deed procedures must register the scrip within 24 hours of receipt.

(3) The VFEX may not grant a listing to an issue of securities until the relevant share certificates, or other documents of title, have been made available, except where the relevant securities arise out of an entitlement derived from a holding in a listed security. Deals entered into between the listing's commencement date and the date the document of title is made available must be settled during the week following that date.

(4) Where it is proposed to issue share certificates which are distinct from existing listed securities, the company must submit to the VFEX a copy of the proposed certificate and a copy of the existing certificate. The procedures to be adopted thereafter must be agreed at this stage between the company and the VFEX.

Over-allotment size

160. An over-allotment may not be more than fifteen per centum of the issue size.

Acceptance of late postal deliveries

161. (1) Applicants must accept for registration deliveries bearing a postmark up to and including the date of the last day to register, which are received within three days of that date.

(2) The last day to register should be a Friday, but if the Friday is a holiday, then the previous business day must be taken as the last day to register.

(3) The VFEX will consider allowing the last day to register to fall on another day only in exceptional circumstances.

Odd-lot offers

162. (1) Pursuant to subrule (2), an "odd-lot" offer occurs when an issuer intends to reduce administrative costs resulting from a large number of "odd-lot" holders. An "odd- lot" is a total holding of less than one hundred securities.

(2) When an issuer proposes to make an odd-lot offer, holders may—

(a) elect to retain their odd-lot holding; or

(b) elect to top up their odd-lot holding to one hundred securities; or

(c) elect to sell their odd-lot holding.

(3) If the top-up and sale prices are not the same, the prices must, in all circumstances, be to the advantage of the holders concerned.

(4) Listed companies must not undertake odd lot offers where they could lead to a contravention of the minimum spread requirements.

(5) In any distribution, award or reconstruction where shareholders may receive odd-lot entitlements, the affected shareholders must, where the issuer wishes to compensate such shareholders in monetary terms, be given the opportunity to elect to receive such odd-lot entitlements.

(6) In respect of odd lot offers, the documents detailed in Part XVI must be submitted to the VFEX.

(7) The document that requires publication regarding odd lot offers is set out in Part XI.

Shares issued to sponsors and advisers in lieu of fees

163. Where an issuer issues shares to its sponsor or to its advisers in lieu of fees, such shares must be issued in compliance with this Rule. For new listings, such shares of the issuer must be held in trust by the issuer's auditors or legal practitioners and may not be disposed of within two years from the date of listing.

PART VI

PRE-LISTING STATEMENTS

Requirement for pre-listing statement

164. When an issuer applies for listing of its securities it must publish a pre-listing statement containing the particulars referred to in this Part.

Responsibility for pre-listing statement

165. (1) The pre-listing statement must include a statement in the form set out in Rule 280 (responsibility statement), which may be modified in terms of subrules (2) or (3) or in such other manner as may be permitted by the VFEX.

(2) If the pre-listing statement relates to securities issued in connection with a recommended take-over of the listed company and the directors of the other company accept responsibility for the information given on that company in the pre-listing statement, then the directors of the applicant may accept responsibility only for the rest of the information in the pre-listing statement and the responsibility statement must be modified accordingly.

(3) The VFEX may require responsibility to be extended to additional persons who have made specific statements in, or who have made contributions to, the pre-listing statement, in which case the statement must be modified accordingly.

(4) The pre-listing statement must be signed by every director of the applicant or by his or her agent or legal practitioner, and a copy of the authority of any such agent or legal practitioner must be submitted with the pre-listing statement. Where responsibility for any information contained in different parts of the pre- listing statement has been extended to or accepted by any other person in accordance with Rule 219 (experts' consents), such other person or his or her agent or legal practitioner must also sign the pre-listing statement and it must be stated clearly for which part or parts of the pre-listing statement each signatory bears responsibility.

Form and content of pre-listing statements

166. (1) Pre-listing statements must contain—

(a) The information prescribed in Part VII (listing particulars) according to the nature and circumstances of the applicant and the type of security as specified in this Part; and

(b) such additional information as the VFEX may consider investors and their professional advisers will reasonably require for the purposes of making an informed assessment of the prospects and status of the applicant. If the VFEX requires additional disclosure, it will inform the applicant accordingly within seven business days in writing.

(2) Pre-listing statements must provide factual information in words and figures and in a form that, as far as possible, is comprehensible and easy to analyse.

(3) The VFEX may require that prominence be given in the pre-listing statement to important information in such a manner as it considers appropriate.

(4) In the case of pre-listing statements published by a new applicant, the following information must appear on the first page together with the names of the issuer, sponsors, bankers, auditors, reporting accountants, financial advisers, legal practitioners and any other specialist advisers—

(a) share capital;

(b) responsibility statement;

(c) particulars of the issue;

(d) registration by the Registrar of Companies.

(5) Pre-listing statements should not contain pictures, charts, graphs or other illustrations unless the VFEX is satisfied that this is the only way in which the information can be clearly presented.

(6) Where the information required by a particular Rule is inappropriate to the applicant's sphere of activity or legal nature the information must, subject to Rule 170 (exclusion of information), be appropriately adapted so that equivalent information is given.

(7) Possible risks to the issuer are required in all instances except where the VFEX advises otherwise.

(8) Unless specified, all references to disclosure are as at the date the pre-listing statement is issued or as near to such date as practicable.

(9) Where another company is to become part of an applicant's group, that other company and its subsidiaries must be treated as part of the applicant's group for the purpose of the information required by this Rule.

(10) The VFEX will not require an indebtedness statement to be included in a pre- listing statement published in connection with an issue of securities where the issuer's business is entirely or mainly that of banking, insurance or the provision of similar financial services, provided the VFEX is satisfied that—

(a) the inclusion of such a statement would not provide significant information for investors; and

(b) the applicant's solvency and capital adequacy are suitably regulated by another regulatory body.

Shareholder approval

167. If the issue of securities in respect of which the pre-listing statement is to be issued is made conditional upon shareholder approval, the following statement must appear on the first page of the pre-listing statement—

> "This pre-listing statement has been prepared on the assumption that the ordinary and special resolutions proposed in the Notice of General Meeting forming part of the circular to which the pre-listing statement is attached will be passed at the General Meeting of shareholders to be held on …… and registered (if applicable).".

Approval for publication

168. (1) Pre-listing statements must be approved by the VFEX before publication. Such approval will only be given if the VFEX considers that the information in the pre-listing statement is complete.

(2) Pre-listing statements submitted to the VFEX for approval must be in the form of a typed document, but the VFEX may permit manuscript information relating to the number of securities and the price, and any figures derived from them, when these items are not settled until a later stage.

Supplementary pre-listing statements

169. (1) The applicant must notify the VFEX of the need to publish a supplementary pre-listing statement, which it should publish at any time after pre-listing statements have been published and, in any case, 72 hours before dealings in the relevant securities commence if circumstances warranting any changes arise.

(2) In the event that it is not possible to issue the supplementary pre-listing statement 72 hours before dealings commence, VFEX will declare the commencement of dealings postponed to a date approved by VFEX.

(3) Supplementary pre-listing statements must—

(a) give details of any change or new matter; and

(b) contain a statement that, save as disclosed, there has been no significant change, and no significant new matter has arisen since publication of the previous particulars; and

(c) contain a statement that a copy of the supplementary listing particulars has been delivered to the Registrar of Companies, if applicable.

Exclusion of information

170. (1) If any information required by Rule 166 (form and content of prelisting statement) is not applicable and no equivalent information is available, the VFEX must be informed in writing and approval of such exclusion obtained.

(2) The VFEX may authorise the variation of information which is applicable if it satisfied that—

(a) the information is of minor importance only and is not such as will influence assessment of the assets and liabilities, financial position, profits and losses and prospects of the applicant;

(b) disclosure would be seriously detrimental to the applicant or would constitute an invasion of the applicant's right to privacy, and non-inclusion is not likely to mislead investors with regard to facts and circumstances, the knowledge of which is essential for the assessment of the securities in question.

(3) Requests to the VFEX to authorise any exclusion of information must—

(a) be made in writing by the applicant or by the applicant's sponsor; or

(b) identify the information concerned and the reasons for the non-inclusion; and

(c) state why, in the opinion of the applicant, one or more of the grounds in this subrule (2) applies.

Exclusion of significant contract from disclosure

171. Full disclosure of a significant contract is required, but the VFEX may allow all or part of such a contract to be withheld from public inspection upon request made in writing by the applicant or by the applicant's sponsor—

(a) stating why, in the opinion of the applicant, one or more of the grounds in Rule 170(3) applies; and

(b) enclosing a copy of the contract concerned and an outline of its terms; and

(c) including a confirmation by the applicant that the contract is a significant contract.

Issues not requiring pre-listing statements

172. (1) Pre-listing statements are not required for issues of securities by an applicant whose securities are already listed and fall into the following categories—

(a) securities resulting from the conversion of convertible securities;

(b) securities resulting from the exercise of rights under options;

(c) securities issued in place of securities already listed, provided that there is no increase in the nominal value of the share capital as a result;

(d) securities allotted to employees, if securities of the same class are already listed;

(e) issues relating to the extension of a business contemplated by and previously described in a pre- listing statement in respect of which the requirement to issue a pre- listing statement may be waived or the requirements reduced at the discretion of the VFEX;

(f) securities resulting from capitalisation issues; or

(g) issues of securities, including rights issues, which, together with any securities of the same class issued in the previous three months, would increase the securities issued by less than thirty per centum. For this purpose, a series of issues in connection with a single transaction, or a series of transactions that is regarded by the VFEX as a single transaction, will be deemed to be a single issue.

(2) In cases where pre-listing statements are not required under paragraphs (a) to (f) of subrule (1), the following information must be published by way of an announcement —

(a) where the issue would increase the securities of the relevant class by thirty per centum or more, the names and addresses of directors, directors' responsibility statement and pro-forma financial statements;

(b) where the issue would increase the securities of the relevant class by less than thirty per centum but more than ten per centum, the number and type of securities to be admitted and the circumstances of their issue.

(3) In cases where a pre-listing statement is not required under subrule (1), the VFEX may require the applicant to publish further information which the VFEX considers investors and their professional advisers may reasonably need in order to make an informed assessment of the applicant's prospects and status.

(4) Information required under subrule (1) must be published by way of an announcement and, if the VFEX so requires, by way of a circular to shareholders.

Acquisition and merger issues

173. In relation to an acquisition or merger where the consideration for a purchase of assets is regulated by Part IX (transactions), or where the consideration being offered consists of securities for which listing will be sought, the VFEX may require pre-listing statements as described in Rule 174 and Part IX. Pre-listing statements may be necessary either as a result of the original terms of the offer or as a result of a revision of the terms during the course of an offer. Where pre-listing statements have already been published, and the offer is revised, the VFEX may require supplementary pre-listing statements as provided in Rule 175.

Requirements of pre-listing statements regarding acquisition and merger issues

174. Pre-listing statements issued in accordance with Rule 173 must comply with the relevant requirements of this Part, subject to the following—

(a) references in Part VII (listing particulars) to the applicant's group will not, except as required by paragraphs (b) and (c), include the offeree company and its subsidiaries unless it has become a member of the applicant's group by the time the pre-listing statements are published; and

(b) the information regarding major shareholders, major interests in securities and directors' interests in securities must be given in relation to the applicant's share capital both as existing and as enlarged by the securities for which listing is sought; and

(c) if the offer—

(i) is recommended by the board of the offeree company at the time of the publication of an offer document, the applicant must publish a statement as to the adequacy of working capital and details of material loans on the basis that the acquisition has taken place;

(ii) has not been recommended by the board of the offeree at the time of the publication of an offer document, the applicant must publish its own statement as to the adequacy of working capital and details of material loans, but the VFEX will allow the statement as to the adequacy of working capital and details of material loans on the combined basis to be given later, in a circular or supplementary pre-listing statement which must be published, in the absence of exceptional circumstances, within twenty-eight calendar days after the offer is declared wholly unconditional. In the latter case, the pre-listing statement must state that the statements on a combined basis will be available within 48 hours, and the applicant must make them available within that time.

Publication and distribution of pre-listing statements to shareholders

175. Pre-listing statements or supplementary pre-listing statements must be published in full or in an abridged form in accordance with Part XI (circulars, pre-listing statements, and prospectus and press statements) and distributed to all shareholders in accordance with Part III (continuing obligations). Where pre-listing statements are revised, or supplementary pre-listing statements are prepared, they should ordinarily be published and circulated to shareholders at the time of despatch of the revised offer document. In a proper case, the VFEX may permit pre-listing statements to be published and circulated after the despatch of the revised offer documents but before listing is granted.

New applicants and issuers not issuing prospectus

176. (1) New applicants not issuing a prospectus are required to provide the following information in the pre-listing statement—

(a) directors, managers and advisers; and

(b) securities for which application is being made; and

(c) group's activities in terms; and

(d) financial information.

SUB-PART B

PRO FORMA FINANCIAL INFORMATION

General

229. (1) If, in any document requiring submission to the VFEX, the issuer publishes pro forma financial information, including financial statements, that information must comply with Rules 230 to 239, and a report in terms of Rule 241(c) must be included in the relevant document, but such a report is not required for announcements.

(2) The provision of accurate pro forma financial information is the responsibility of the directors of the issuer, who must include a statement accepting that responsibility in any publication containing pro forma financial information.

Nature of pro forma information

230. (1) The purpose of pro forma financial information is to provide investors with information about the impact of the corporate action which is the subject of the prospectus or pre-listing statement or circular by illustrating how that corporate action might have affected the reported financial information had the corporate action been undertaken at the commencement of the period being reported on or in the case of a pro forma statement of financial position, at the date reported on.

(2) The pro forma financial information presented is not to be misleading, it is there to assist investors in analysing prospects of the issuer and is to include all appropriate adjustments permitted by Rule 237 (adjustments to financial statements) of which the issuer is aware, and which are considered necessary to give effect to the corporate action as if the corporate action had been undertaken at the commencement of the period being reported on or, in the case of a pro forma statement of financial position, at the date reported on.

Presentation of pro forma financial information

231. (1) Pro forma financial information must state—

(a) the purpose for which it has been prepared;

(b) that it is prepared for illustrative purposes only; and

(c) that because of its nature, it may not necessarily present the issuer's actual financial position, changes in equity, results of operations or cash flows.

(2) Pro forma financial information must be presented in columnar form showing the unadjusted financial information and the pro forma adjustments, and must identify the basis upon which it is prepared, and the source of each item of information and adjustment.

(3) Pro forma figures must be given no greater prominence in the document than unadjusted financial figures.

Accounting policies to be adopted in preparing and presenting pro forma financial information

232. (1) Pro forma financial information must be presented in a manner consistent with both the format and accounting policies adopted by the issuer in its report of historical financial information.

(2) In quantifying pro forma financial information adjustments, the issuer must apply accounting policies on the same basis as the issuer would normally adopt in preparing its annual financial statements.

(3) The requirement to apply the issuer's accounting policies in preparing proforma financial information applies to adjustments made in respect of a material acquisition.

(4) Pro forma financial information must be prepared in accordance with the policies adopted in presenting the unadjusted financial information of the issuer at the relevant date or for the relevant period, even where new accounting standards will apply subsequently.

Selection of periods

233. Pro forma financial information may be published only in respect of—

(a) the most recent financial reporting period;

(b) in the case of a pro forma statement of financial position, as at the date on which such periods end or ended;

(c) a profit forecast, provided that the forecast has been published and reported on in terms of Part IX (transactions) or Part XI (mineral companies), for the statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income purposes, and for the periods specified in paragraphs (a) and (b) for the purposes of a statement of financial position.

Subsequent events

234. No adjustments may be made to pro forma financial information in respect of events occurring after the end of the reporting period except—

(a) as provided for in the IFRS on events after the reporting period;

(b) in respect of the particular transaction for which the pro forma financial information is being presented;

(c) in respect of any previously published financial effects that have been reported on in terms of Rule 241 (circumstances when auditors' report is required); or

(d) in respect of any corporate action of the issuer or the target which occurred after the preparation of their statements of financial position, where it would be misleading not to make an adjustment, and in such instance, in addition to providing full details of the adjustment, details must be provided as to why the issuer believes it would be misleading not to make an adjustment.

Accounting periods

235. Where a pro forma statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income or statement of cash flows is presented for two or more entities or business undertakings, such as may be the case in a material acquisition, the unadjusted information about the issuer and the adjustments in respect of the other entity or entities must cover periods of the same length.

Unadjusted information

236. (1) The unadjusted information must be derived from the most recent—

(a) published audited annual financial statements, published interim reports or provisional reports;

(b) previously published report of historical financial information;

(c) previously published pro forma financial information reported on in accordance with Rule 242(3)(b).

(2) Any previously published profit forecast must be updated, and a new profit forecast published taking account of the effects of the transaction concerned.

Adjustments to financial statements

237. (1) Any adjustments that are made to the information referred to in Rule 313 in relation to any pro forma financial statement must be—

(a) clearly shown and explained;

(b) directly attributable to the transaction concerned and not relating to future events or decisions;

(c) factually supportable; and

(d) in respect of a pro forma financial statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income or statement of cash flows, clearly identified as between those adjustments that are expected to have a continuing effect on the issuer and those that are not.

(2) In order to comply fully with subrule (1), issuers must include notes to the pro forma financial information providing the explanations required in terms of that Rule as well as—

(a) any assumptions on which the adjustments are based;

(b) the range of possible outcomes where there is significant uncertainty;

(c) the sources of the amounts concerned; and

(d) where relevant, how adjustments have been aggregated or allocated to financial statement captions.

Continuing effects

238. (1) In respect of pro forma income or cash flow statements, issuers must identify clearly those adjustments that are expected to have a continuing effect on the issuer and those that are not. An issuer is not permitted either—

(a) to omit adjustments that are directly attributable to a transaction and factually supportable because they do not have a continuing effect; or

(b) to make adjustments to eliminate items solely because they are considered not to have a continuing effect.

(2) Issuers must interpret Rule 228 in line with the requirements of IFRS or guidelines issued by any other accounting board acceptable to the VFEX.

Earnings and headline earnings per share

239. Where information on pro forma earnings and headline earnings per share is given for a transaction, it must be provided in compliance with IFRS:

Provided that where the transaction includes the issue of securities, the calculation is to be based on the weighted average number of issued shares adjusted as if that issue had taken place at the beginning of the period.

Profit forecasts and estimates

240. (1) The requirements of subrules (2) to (10) apply to forecasts or estimates of profits or losses, cash flows, or net asset values collectively defined as profits or losses. A profit estimate is for a financial period that has expired but for which the results have not yet been published.

(2) Any statement or information relating to the prospects of an issuer, or an undertaking that is to become a material part of an issuer's group, must be unambiguous. The issuer must determine in advance with its sponsor whether such a statement of information will constitute a profit forecast or an estimate. Any profit forecast or estimate must be compiled using accounting policies that are consistent with those applied by the applicant.

(3) A specific profit forecast which—

(a) states a figure for the likely level of profits or losses for the current financial period or financial periods after that period or contains data from which a calculation of such a figure for profits or losses may be made.

(b) is usually made when an applicant includes a number, percentage, range, value or any other term that has a recognised value. This list is not exhaustive, and issuers must consult with their sponsors to ascertain whether a statement constitutes a specific forecast.

(4) A general profit forecast—

(a) indicates a minimum or maximum figure for the likely level of profits or losses for the current financial period and financial periods after that period, or contains data from which such calculation may be made, even if no particular figure is mentioned and the word profit is not used;

(b) is usually made when an applicant uses the following words or terms: improvement, "increase", "growth", "decline", "decrease", "similar" or "in line with". The use of these words or terms must not result in the statement becoming a specific profit forecast;

(c) this list is not exhaustive, and applicants must consult with their sponsors to ascertain whether a statement is a general forecast.

(5) A profit estimate bears the same meaning as a general or specific forecast, with the exception that it relates to a financial period ended but for which no financial information has yet been published.

(6) When an applicant clearly states in an announcement that it has certain future targets or objectives that it would like to achieve, such shall not be interpreted as a profit forecast or estimate as referred to above, provided that the targets or objectives do not specifically relate to the current or next reporting period.

(7) A specific or general profit forecast or estimate of an applicant, or an undertaking that is or will become a material part of the issuer's group, which is included in any communication with shareholders is the sole responsibility of the directors and must—

(a) include the key assumptions that have been used in arriving at the forecast or estimate;

(b) make reference to the relevant previously published information, for instance any line item in the statement of profit or loss or other comprehensive income, statement of financial position or the statement of cash flows, to which it relates; and

(c) in the case of a specific profit forecast or estimate, must be reported on by the sponsors in accordance with Rule 26 (profit forecast).

(8) A dividend forecast must be treated as a profit forecast where the applicant has a known policy of relating dividends to earnings, or has an insufficient level of retained earnings, or the forecast otherwise implies a forecast of profit. In the event of uncertainty, the VFEX must be consulted.

(9) A profit forecast or estimate of an applicant, or an undertaking that is to become a significant part of an issuer's group, which is included in any communication with shareholders, must be reported on by the issuer's auditors or accountants and by the issuer's sponsor as referred to in Rule 25 (financial reporting procedures). The applicant must compile its report in terms of International Standard on Assurance Engagements (ISAE) 3400 and IFRS.

(10) The period of the forecast or estimate should normally be to the end of an issuer's financial period. If it is not, then the period of the forecast or estimate must be in respect of a period for which the results will be published, or the issuer must make a new forecast for such a period. The forecast or estimate must be disclosed on a per share basis and must include profit after tax, disclosing separately any items expected to be of such size, nature or incidence that their disclosure is relevant to explain the expected performance, as well as tax charges, earnings and headline earnings, and cash flows or net asset values if applicable.

(11) A profit forecast included in a prospectus, a pre-listing statement or circular containing proposals to be put to shareholders in a general meeting concerning a refinancing or reconstruction of the issuer or its group, or in any other communication with shareholders, must include a statement of the principal assumptions for each factor that would have a material effect on the achievement of the forecast. These assumptions must—

(a) be clearly segregated between assumptions about factors that the directors can influence and assumptions about factors that are entirely outside the influence of the directors;

(b) be readily understandable by investors;

(c) be specific about the particular aspect of the estimate or forecast to which they refer and about the uncertainty attaching to that aspect; and

(d) not relate to the general accuracy of the estimates, such as sales estimates, expense estimates, or underlying the forecasts.

(12) If a profit estimate is included in any of the documents referred to in subrule 9, the estimate may only be subject to assumptions in exceptional circumstances, and such exceptional circumstances must be explained.

PART IX

TRANSACTIONS RELATING TO ACQUISITIONS AND DISPOSALS

Application of Part

252. (1) In this Part, "reverse take-over" means a transaction, or series of transactions, in which an issuer acquires a business entity or an unlisted company or assets which would result in a fundamental change in the listed company's business; or a change in the listed company's board or controlling shareholder involving an alteration to its articles of association; and such a transaction is considered to be a new listing.

(2) This Part deals with transactions, principally acquisitions and disposals, by an issuer. It describes how they are categorised, what the requirements are for announcements and circulars and whether shareholder approval is required. It then considers additional requirements for takeovers and mergers.

(3) The Thirty-third Schedule (detailed requirements for takeovers and mergers) sets out, in a table, certain requirements for the contents of Category 1 and Category 2 circulars.

References to transactions

253. (1) References in this Part to a transaction by an issuer—

(a) include a transaction by any subsidiary of the listed company;

(b) exclude a transaction in the ordinary course of the company's trading activities;

(c) exclude an issue of securities or a transaction to raise finance which, in either case, does not involve the acquisition or disposal of any asset of the listed company or of its subsidiaries; and

(d) include the written grant or acquisition of an option to acquire or dispose of assets as if the option had been exercised.

(2) An issuer which is in any doubt as to the application of the listing requirements contained in this Part must consult the VFEX at an early stage.

Categorisation and explanation of terms

254. (1) Any issuer considering a transaction must, at an early stage, consider the categorisation of the transaction.

(2) A transaction is categorised by assessing its size relative to that of the issuer proposing to make it and the listed holding company of such issuer, if applicable.

(3) The comparison of size is made by the use of the percentage ratios set out below. The different categories of transactions are—

(a) Category 3—a transaction where any aggregate percentage ratio is five per centum or more, but each transaction is less than twenty per centum;

(b) Category 2—a transaction where any aggregate percentage ratio is twenty per centum or more, but each transaction is less than thirty per centum;

(c) Category 1—a transaction where any aggregate percentage ratio is thirty per centum or more;

(4) Figures used for categorisation purposes must be the aggregate market value of all those securities before the announcement of the transaction or, in the case of consideration in the form of a new class of securities for which a listing application will be made, the issue price of such securities or, if no price can be determined for that new class of securities, the expected aggregate market value of the securities in that class.

(5) In cases of doubt as to whether a transaction is to be categorised under this Rule, the issuer must consult the VFEX at an early stage and must comply with any instructions the VFEX may give regarding the categorisation of the transaction.

Percentage ratios

255. (1) The percentage ratios are the figures, expressed as a percentage, resulting from each of the following calculations—

(a) consideration to market capitalisation—the consideration divided by the aggregate market value of all the equity securities of the listed company;

(b) dilution—the number of securities issued by an issuer as consideration for an acquisition compared to those in issue before the transaction;

(2) Where a transaction is to be settled partly in cash and partly in shares, its category size is to be calculated by first assessing the cash-to-market capitalisation percentage and then adding this percentage to the dilution percentage.

(3) The calculation showing all categorisation workings must be supplied to the VFEX when the announcement and circular are submitted for approval.

(4) Where either of the above calculations produces an anomalous result, or where the calculations are inappropriate to the sphere of activity of the issuer, the VFEX may disregard the calculation and may substitute other relevant indicators of size.

(5) The VFEX may require the issuer to provide a fair and reasonable opinion on transaction values, taking into account other ratios, or may use any other appropriate indicators of size to determine the category size of a transaction, and such indicators may include net asset valuations, discounted cash flow, statement of financial position and turnover.

(6) If either of the percentage ratios changes to the extent that the categorisation of the transaction is altered between the time the transaction is first discussed with the VFEX and the announcement, the issuer must inform the VFEX and must comply with any instructions the VFEX may give regarding the categorisation of the transaction.

Consideration

256. When calculating the consideration for a transaction—

(a) the consideration is the amount paid to the sellers, but the VFEX may require the inclusion of further amounts, for instance, where the purchaser agrees to discharge any liabilities, whether actual or contingent, of the sellers as part of the terms of the transaction;

(b) where all or part of the consideration is in the form of securities to be listed, the consideration attributable to those securities means the aggregate market value of those securities based on the ruling price of such securities at the time the terms of the transaction are agreed;

(c) if deferred consideration is or may be payable in the future, the consideration is the maximum possible total consideration payable under the agreement. If that total consideration is not subject to any maximum, the transaction will normally be treated as a Category 1, notwithstanding the category into which it otherwise falls;

(d) if the transaction involves a new class of securities for which an application for listing will be made, the consideration is the product of their issue price or, if the issuer does not provide evidence of their listed price, some other appropriate value determined to the satisfaction of the VFEX.

Indemnities and similar arrangements

257. (1) Any agreement or arrangement with a party, not being a member of the issuer's group—

(a) under which an issuer agrees to discharge any liabilities for costs, expenses, commissions or losses incurred by that party, whether or not on a contingent basis; and

(b) which would be exceptional; and

(c) under which the maximum liability must be treated as a Category 1 transaction.

(2) For the purpose of this Part, indemnities such as those customarily given in connection with sale and purchase agreements and indemnities given to advisers against liabilities to third parties arising out of providing advisory services are not exceptional.

Aggregation of transactions

258. (1) Transactions completed during—

(a) the twelve months prior to the date of the latest transaction; or

(b) the period since the date on which the most recent published audited statement of financial position was prepared; or

(c) the period since the publication of the latest pre-listing statement or circular;

whichever is the shorter, must be aggregated with the latest transaction for the purpose of determining the categorisation to apply to the latest transaction.

(2) In cases of doubt as to whether transactions must be aggregated under this Rule, the issuer must consult the VFEX at an early stage and must comply with any instructions the VFEX may give regarding the aggregation of the transactions.

(3) Where acquisitions are entered into during a period of twelve months which cumulatively exceed one hundred per centum in either of the percentage ratios, the provisions relating to a reverse takeover provided for in the Thirty-third Schedule (detailed requirements for takeovers and mergers) must be applied.

(4) Without prejudice to the generality of subrules (1) and (2), transactions will normally only be aggregated in accordance with those Rules if they—

(a) are entered into by the issuer with the same party or with parties connected with one another; or

(b) involve the acquisition or disposal of securities or an interest in one particular company; or

(c) together lead to substantial involvement in a business activity which did not previously form a part of the company's principal activities.

(5) If under subrule (1) the aggregation results in a Category 1 requirement for shareholder approval, then that approval is required only for the latest transaction.

Category 3 requirements

259. (1) In the case of a Category 3 transaction, the issuer must, without delay and in any event within four calendar days after the terms of the transaction are agreed and before it is implemented, publish an announcement setting out—

(a) particulars of the transaction, including the names or details of—

(i) any company or business which is the subject of the transaction; and

(ii) the ultimate beneficiary of the transaction; and

(iii) if the transaction is an acquisition, the sellers; and

(iv) if the transaction is a disposal, the purchasers; and

(v) the effective date of the transaction; and

(vi) any conditions precedent; and

(vii) any other significant terms of the transaction; and

(b) a description of the business carried on by the listed company; and

(c) the consideration for the transaction, and how it has been or is to be paid or given, including the terms of any arrangements for deferred payment; and

(d) the value of the net assets that are the subject of the transaction, and any significant pro forma effect the transaction will have on the net assets and net tangible assets per share of the company; and

(e) the profits attributable to the net assets that are the subject of the transaction, and any significant pro forma effect the transaction will have on the historical earnings and headline earnings per share of the company; and

(f) the reason for the transaction; and

(g) in the case of a disposal of assets—

(i) the application of the sale proceeds; and

(ii) if securities formed part of the consideration received, a statement whether such securities must be sold or retained.

(2) The pro forma financial information required by subrule (1) paragraphs (d) and (e) must comply with the requirements of Part VIII (financial information).

(3) In subrule (1), "significant" means a change of three per centum or more for the purpose of making an informed assessment of the assets and liabilities, financial position, profits and losses, cash flow and prospects of the listed company and the rights attaching to any securities forming part of the consideration.

(4) If, pursuant to a Category 3 transaction, securities have been acquired in a company which, as a result, becomes a subsidiary company, the listed company must give the VFEX a written undertaking that the constitutive documents of such a subsidiary company will be amended to conform to the Fourteenth Schedule. Such confirmation must also be included in the announcement in terms of subrule (1).

(5) If at any time after the publication of an announcement in terms of subrule (1), the issuer becomes aware that—

(a) there has been a significant change affecting any matter contained in that announcement; or

(b) a significant new matter has arisen which would have been required to be mentioned in that announcement if it had arisen when that announcement was being prepared;

the listed company must, without delay, and in any event within hours after becoming aware of the change or new matter, advise the VFEX and publish a supplementary announcement—

(i) giving details of the change or new matter; and

(ii) containing a statement that, save as disclosed, there has been no significant change affecting any matter contained in the earlier announcement, and no other significant new matter has arisen which would have been required to be mentioned in that earlier announcement if it had arisen when that announcement was being prepared.

(6) Where an issuer is required to publish a supplementary announcement in terms of subrule (5), the VFEX may require the issuer to ensure that—

(a) any person who assumed responsibility for any statement or assessment contained in the earlier announcement, or who was responsible for any assessment or forecast on the basis of which any such statement or assessment was made, assumes responsibility for any revision of that statement, assessment or forecast in the supplementary announcement ;

(b) any other person on whose statement, assessment or forecast anything in the supplementary announcement is based assumes responsibility for that statement, assessment or forecast.

(7) If as a result of any significant change or new matter referred to in subrule (5), the percentage ratios of the transaction are affected, and the transaction requires re-categorisation into a higher category, the issuer must re-categorise the transaction accordingly.

Category 2 requirements

260. (1) Within four calendar days after the terms of a Category 2 transaction have been agreed, and before they have been implemented, the listed company must—

(a) publish an announcement complying with the requirements of Rule 259(1); and

(b) in the announcement state that a circular to shareholders will be issued in compliance with subrule (2);

and within 28 calendar days thereafter, dispatch the circular to shareholders.

(2) The circular referred to in subrule (1) must comply with the general requirements relating to circulars set out in this Part and must include—

(a) the information required in the Thirty-third Schedule (detailed requirements for takeovers and mergers); and

(b) details of any service contracts of proposed directors of the issuer; and

(c) where the transaction involves a payment or consideration to be given for goodwill, a statement regarding the company's accounting policy towards goodwill, as well as the reasons for such goodwill payment or consideration; and

(d) a statement giving the directors' opinions on the transaction; and

(e) the information required by the Thirty-third Schedule in relation to Category 2 circulars; and

(f) in the case of an acquisition of an interest in an undertaking which will result in—

(i) a consolidation of the net assets of that undertaking; or

(ii) a disposal of an interest in an undertaking which will result in the net assets of the undertaking no longer being consolidated;

an accountants' report as set out in Part III (financial information) is required;

(g) in the case of a transaction other than one referred to in subparagraph (f), a summary of any relevant financial information, or a statement that none exists, together with confirmation that the directors consider that the value to the company justifies the price paid or received by it, is required; and

(h) details required of all Category 3 announcements made since the publication of the company's last—

(i) annual financial statements or interim report; or

(ii) pre-listing statement; or

(iii) Category 2 or Category1 circular; whichever is the most recent.

Category 1 requirements

261. (1) In the case of a Category 1 transaction, the issuer must comply with the Category 2 requirements as set out in Rule 260 (1) and (2), and in addition must comply with the requirements set out in subrules (2), (3) and (4).

(2) The agreement effecting a Category 1 transaction must be conditional upon the shareholders of the issuer approving the transaction in a general meeting.

(3) The circular to shareholders must include a statement giving the directors' opinions on the transaction, a recommendation as to how shareholders should vote at the general meeting to approve the transaction and, where any directors are voting shareholders, an indication as to how those directors intend to vote at the general meeting.

(4) If the transaction results in an issue of securities which, together with any other securities of the same class issued during the previous three months, would increase the securities issued by more than thirty per centum, then the issuer must include in the circular the information required to be disclosed for a pre-listing statement.

Reverse take-over requirements

262. (1) In the case of a transaction involving a reverse takeover, the issuer must comply with the requirements of subrules (2) to (5).

(2) The issuer, as enlarged by the acquisition, must be suitable for listing as if it were a new applicant and satisfy the conditions for listing as set out in Part IV (conditions for listing).

(3) The applicant must make an announcement of a reverse takeover, which must contain adequate warning as to the uncertainty of whether the VFEX will allow the listing to continue following the acquisition. Suspension of the listed company will be considered by the VFEX pending more details.

(4) The company must prepare a Category 1 circular and listing particulars as though the company were a new applicant, which circular must clearly advise shareholders whether or not the VFEX will continue to grant a listing to the issuer if shareholders approve the acquisition.

(5) If the Category 1 circular and listing particulars are not provided to shareholders within 30 calendar days of the announcement, the VFEX will suspend the listing of the company's securities.

Exceptions to reverse take-over requirements

263. In the case of a reverse takeover, if all the following conditions are satisfied, the acquisition will be treated as a Category 1 transaction—

(a) the subject of the acquisition is of a similar size to that of the acquiring company; and

(b) the subject of the acquisition is in a similar line of business to that of the acquiring company; and

(c) the enlarged group is suitable for listing; and

(d) there will be no change in the board or controlling shareholder of the acquiring company.

Contents of Category 1 and Category 2 circulars

264. (1) In addition to the requirements of Rules 259 to 260, a Category 1 or Category 2 circular must include the information required by the table set out below, but where the circular is accompanied by or forms part of a pre-listing statement which itself contains the information required, such information need not be repeated.

(2) The working capital statement and, where relevant, information on group prospects and any profit forecast must be on the basis of the enlarged group in the case of an acquisition and on the basis that the disposal has taken place in the case of a disposal.

(3) Where the listed company is issuing securities for which listing is sought, the information regarding major interests in securities and directors' interests in securities must be given in relation to the share capital both as existing and as enlarged by the securities for which listing is sought.

(4) Where a circular is required by this Part, and pre-listing statements are required by Part VI, a single document may be issued which comprises pre-listing statements, provided that—

(a) it contains all the information required by this Part and Part VI (prelisting statements); and

(b) the document has been submitted to and approved by the VFEX before its publication.

(5) If securities are being issued as consideration for an acquisition and a Category 2 circular is required, then listing will not be granted for those securities until the circular has been distributed to shareholders.

(6) In the case of a Category 1 transaction, listing will not be granted until shareholders' approval has been obtained and, where necessary, any special resolution has been registered.

Takeovers and mergers

265. (1) Where an announcement or a cautionary announcement concerning a possible takeover or merger transaction is submitted to the VFEX for approval, a copy of the announcement must simultaneously be sent to the applicable regulatory authorities.

(2) A copy of all draft documentation that is sent to the applicable regulatory authorities for approval must be submitted to the VFEX together with a letter confirming that the relevant documentation has been submitted to the applicable regulatory authorities.

(3) The issuer must submit a written notification to the VFEX immediately upon approval being granted by the applicable regulatory authorities in respect of any documentation that is to be circulated to shareholders. The VFEX will consider granting approvals conditionally where regulatory approvals have not yet been granted, but listing requirements have been met.

(4) A copy of the actual approved documentation must be sent to the VFEX together with the notification referred to in subrule (3).

(5) The detailed requirements relating to takeovers and mergers are provided for in the Thirty-third Schedule.

PART X

TRANSACTIONS WITH RELATED PARTIES

Interpretation of Part

266. (1) In this Part—

"director" in relation to the definition of "related party" includes a person who is, or within the twelve months preceding the date of the transaction was not a director but in accordance with whose directions or instructions the directors or any of the directors are or were accustomed to act;

"material security holder" means any person who is, or within the eighteen months preceding the date of the transaction was entitled, directly or indirectly by agreement or otherwise, to exercise or control ten per centum or more of the votes able to be cast on all or substantially all matters at general meetings of the listed company, or any other company which is its subsidiary or holding company or which is a fellow subsidiary of its holding company;

"related party" means—

(a) a material security holder;

(b) any person who is, or within the twelve months preceding the date of the transaction was, a director of the listed company or any of its subsidiaries or its holding company or any subsidiary of its holding company;

(c) any advisor to the listed company which has, or within the twelve months preceding the date of the transaction had, a beneficial interest, whether direct or indirect, in the listed company or any of its associates;

(d) any person, who is, or within the twelve months preceding the date of the transaction was, a member of key management of the company, by whatever position he or she may be or may have been designated, and whether or not he or she is or was a director;

(e) an associate of the persons described in paragraphs (a) to (d);

"related party transaction" means a transaction, or any variation or novation of an existing agreement, between an issuer, or any of its subsidiaries, and a related party.

Application of Part

267. (1) This Part provides certain safeguards against those security holders, directors or other persons related to an issuer taking advantage of their position. Transactions with parties related to an issuer are known as related party transactions. Reference should also be made to the listing requirements regarding transactions set out in Part IX (transactions).

(2) Where any transaction is proposed between an issuer, or any of its subsidiaries, and a related party, a circular to security holders and the approval of the security holders of the listed company in a general meeting will be required.

(3) Any circular sent to security holders in connection with a related party transaction must provide sufficient information to enable any recipient of the circular to evaluate the effects of the transaction on the listed company.

Consultation with VFEX

268. (1) If an issuer or any of its subsidiaries proposes to enter into a related party transaction which will result in any vested or other interest or right being created for any related party, the listed company must consult the VFEX at an early stage. If the VFEX considers the related party to have a significant interest in, or influence over, the related party transaction, it may, at its sole discretion, impose the requirements set out in Rule 270. The relevant draft contract must be supplied to the VFEX if requested.

(2) The VFEX may, in its sole discretion, require the listed company to provide it with a declaration that, to the best of the knowledge and belief of the directors, any nominee shareholders do not include any person who may be acting in concert with any other person in relation to the related party transaction.

Requirements for related party transaction

269. (1) If the VFEX so decides, the listed company must, in respect of a related party transaction—

(a) make an announcement containing—

(i) the information specified in Part XI (circulars, prelisting statements, prospectus and announcements);

(ii) the name of the related party concerned; and

(iii) details of the nature and extent of the interest of the related party in the transaction;

(b) furnish the VFEX with a copy of the agreement;

(c) send a circular to its security holders containing the information required in Rule 273 (contents of circular);

(d) obtain the approval, by resolution, of its security holders either prior to the transaction being entered into or, if it is expressed to be conditional on such approval, before completion of the transaction;

(e) include in the special or ordinary resolution to approve or give effect to the transaction a condition that the validity of the resolution will be subject to a requisite majority of the votes of shareholders other than the related party and its associates being cast in favour of the resolution; and

(f) submit to the VFEX a statement by an independent expert acceptable to the VFEX confirming that the terms of the proposed transaction with the related party are fair and reasonable to the security holders of the company.

(2) Where a meeting of the issuer has been called to approve a transaction and, after the date of the notice of meeting but before the meeting itself, the transaction becomes a related party transaction, the VFEX may require that the listed company either—

(a) take immediate steps to amend the relevant resolution by including the condition referred to in subrule (1)(e) and give notice of the amendment to shareholders by way of a circular containing also any information required by Rule 273 which was not contained in the original circular accompanying the notice of the meeting; or

(b) withdraw the notice of the meeting and convene a fresh meeting complying with subrule (1).

(3) If the VFEX decides not to impose the requirements set out in subrule (1) in respect of a related party transaction, the issuer must, before completing the transaction—

(a) provide the VFEX with written confirmation from an independent professional expert acceptable to the VFEX that the terms of the proposed transaction with the related party are fair and reasonable as far as the shareholders of the issuer are concerned; and

(b) undertake in writing to the VFEX to include details of the transaction in the issuer's next published annual financial statements, circular or pre-listing statement, interim financial statements, including the identity of the related party, the value of the consideration for the transaction and all other relevant circumstances.

Transactions not regarded as related party transactions

270. A transaction will not be regarded as a related party transaction if any of the following situations apply—

(a) the issuer does not have any equity securities listed;

(b) the transaction is an issue of new securities either—

(i) for cash by the issuer or any of its subsidiaries pursuant to an opportunity which, so far as is practicable, is made available to all holders of the listed company's securities or to all holders of a relevant class of its securities on the same terms; or

(ii) made pursuant to the exercise of conversion or subscription rights attaching to a listed class of securities or previously approved by the issuer's shareholders in general meeting, and has been approved by the issuer's shareholders in general meeting;

(c) the transaction—

(i) involves the receipt of securities by a director of the issuer, its holding company or any of its subsidiaries; or

(ii) is a grant of an option to a director of the issuer, its holding company or any of its subsidiaries to acquire, whether or not for a consideration, new or existing securities of the issuer;

in accordance with the terms of an employees' share scheme which does not have the effect of conferring benefits only on directors of the issuer, its holding company or any of its subsidiaries;

(d) the transaction is a grant of credit, including the lending of money or the guaranteeing of a loan, to or from the related party—

(i) upon normal commercial terms in the ordinary course of business; or

(ii) in an amount and on terms no more favourable than those offered to employees of the group generally; and

(iii) has no conversion rights;

(e) the transaction is the grant of an indemnity to a director of the issuer or any of its subsidiaries, or the maintenance of a contract of insurance, whether for a director of the listed company or for a director or any of its subsidiaries;

(f) the transaction is an underwriting by the related party of all or part of an issue of securities by the listed company or any of its subsidiaries, and the consideration to be paid by the listed company or any of its subsidiaries in respect of such underwriting is no more than the usual commercial underwriting consideration and is the same as that to be paid to the other underwriters, if any;

(g) the transaction is one where both of the percentage ratios referred to in Rule 339 are equal, or less than five per centum; or

(h) the transaction is one of a revenue nature in the ordinary course of the listed company's business.

Transactions relating to small, related party transactions

271. In relation to small, related party transactions, the listed company must—

(a) inform the VFEX in writing of the details of the proposed transaction;

(b) provide the VFEX with written confirmation from an independent professional expert acceptable to the VFEX that the terms of the proposed transaction with the related party are fair and reasonable as far as the shareholders of the issuer are concerned;

(c) publish details of the proposed transaction in accordance with Part XI (circulars, prelisting statements, prospectus and announcements), including a statement that paragraph (b) of this Rule has been complied with, that the transaction has been declared to be fair and reasonable, and that the fair and reasonable opinion statement will lie for inspection at the issuer's registered office for a period of twenty-eight days from the date of announcement; and

(d) comply with the usual requirements regarding transactions with related parties as provided in Rule 269 (requirement for related party transaction), if the independent professional expert states that the transaction is not fair and reasonable.

Aggregation

272. (1) The VFEX will require all transactions to be aggregated, which—

(a) are entered into by the issuer or any of its subsidiaries with the same related party or any of its associates in any twelve months; and

(b) have neither been approved by shareholders nor described in a circular complying with the requirements of rule 273.

(2) If the transactions in aggregate would be classified as a Category 3 or larger transaction in terms of Rule 259, the VFEX shall require the company to comply with the requirements of rule 273 in respect of the latest transaction and to disclose in the circular all relevant details of each of the transactions being aggregated.

Contents of circular

273. A circular relating to a related party transaction must comply with the general requirements relating to circulars set out in Part XI and must also include—

(a) a responsibility statement in accordance with Rule 194;

(b) in all cases, the information required by Rules 211, 216, 250, 254, 256 and 257;

(c) in the case of a transaction where the related party is a director of the issuer or of its holding company or any of its subsidiaries or fellow subsidiaries, or an associate of such a director, the directors' interests in securities and transactions and the directors' service contracts should be specified;

(d) full particulars of the transaction, including the name of the related party concerned, a description of the relationship between the issuer and the related party and the nature and extent of the interest of such party in the transactions;

(e) in the case of an acquisition, or disposal of fixed property, or, in the case of a mineral company, an acquisition or disposal of minerals, mineral resources or mineral reserves as defined in Part XII, an independent valuation including the value, the basis of valuation and the method of arriving at such value;

(f) a statement complying with the Ninth Schedule by an independent professional expert acceptable to the VFEX as to whether the transaction is fair and reasonable insofar as the shareholders of the issuer are concerned, provided that such statement shall not be required if an independent valuation has been conducted and disclosed in accordance with paragraph (e);

(g) where applicable, a statement that the related party and its associates will not be taken into account in determining a quorum at the shareholders' meeting and their votes will not be taken into account in determining the results of the voting at such meeting in relation to any resolution in connection with the related party transaction;

(h) if the transaction also falls within Category 1 or Category 2, the information required to be included in Category 1 or Category 2 circulars, respectively in terms of Part IX;

(i) in the case of a transaction involving immovable freehold property or leasehold property, the applicable information required by Part XIII (property companies); and

(j) details of any other transactions entered into by the issuer, or any of its subsidiaries, with the same related party or any of its associates which have not been approved by the shareholders.

PART XI

CIRCULARS, PRE-LISTING STATEMENTS OR PROSPECTUSES AND ANNOUNCEMENTS

Application of Part

274. (1) This Part sets out—

(a) the general requirements applicable to all circulars and announcements published by listed companies; and

(b) the specific requirements relating to the method of issue of securities to be listed.

(2) Where the circular or announcement, or the transaction or matter to which it relates, has unusual features, or where it is not possible to comply with the relevant requirements of this Part, the VFEX must be consulted at an early stage.

(3) When a new applicant or existing issuer issues a prospectus, the presumption is made that, apart from compliance with the Act, the prospectus will also comply with and contain all necessary disclosures as if it were a pre-listing statement subject to compliance with these rules. For the purposes of this Part any reference to a pre-listing statement includes reference to a prospectus, and vice versa.

(4) Parts IX and X detail the information to be included in announcements and circulars relating to transactions and related party transactions.

Contents of all circulars

275. Circulars and pre-listing statements sent by an issuer to holders of its listed securities must—

(a) provide a clear and adequate explanation of their subject matter;

(b) if voting or other action is required—

(i) contain all information necessary to allow the holders of the securities to make a properly informed decision; and

(ii) contain a heading drawing attention to the importance of the document and advising holders of securities who are in any doubt as to what action to take to consult appropriate independent advisers;

(c) state that where all the securities have been sold or transferred by the addressee, the circular and any other relevant documents should be passed to the person through whom the sale or transfer was effected, for transmission to the purchaser or transferee;

(d) state in which other official languages are also available and where the translations may be obtained;

(e) include all the information published or to be published simultaneously with the circular or pre- listing statement concerned in any announcement issued in connection with the transaction to which the circular or pre-listing statement relates; and

(f) where new securities are being issued in substitution for existing securities, explain what will happen to existing documents of title;

(g) provide clear guidance in respect of any event requiring action by security holders, as follows—

(i) wherever reference is made to security holders or members of the company concerned, the procedures for security holders must be detailed;

(ii) the surrender of security certificates will only apply where applicable, and the surrender forms must state this;

(iii) in the case of nominee company security holders, the sponsor will automatically action the surrender of ownership title in accordance with the corporate action or after having received an election instruction;

(iv) the salient dates should include all the dates in the declaration data and finalisation information; and

(v) if new securities must be issued, security holders or members must be given the option to receive such new securities in certificated or dematerialised form.

Approval

276. (1) All other price-sensitive announcements to be made must be submitted for review by the VFEX before publication, and where necessary must be approved by the VFEX.

(2) Circulars and pre-listing statements may not be sent to shareholders until they have been approved by the VFEX.

Listing by introduction

277. Applicants seeking a listing by way of an introduction are required to publish an announcement complying with Rule 275 and prepare a pre-listing statement complying with Rule 278.

Announcements for introductions

278. The announcement referred to in this Rule must either contain the full pre-listing statement as set out in Rule 275 or an abridged pre-listing statement containing the following information—

(a) the number and description of the securities concerned;

(b) the name, date of registration and registration number of the applicant;

(2) Release dates should be in agreement with the VFEX. A draft announcement or price-sensitive information may not be released to any third party under a time embargo before it is released in terms of Rule 120, and circulars may not be released to a third party under a time embargo prior to it being approved by the VFEX and sent to shareholders and the VFEX website.

Name or logo of broking firm on advertisements and documents

305. (1) The names of the sponsor or members of the VFEX may appear in any advertisement or document issued by or on behalf of any company. Where the names of members appear, the following words must be added after their names: "member of the VFEX."

(2) Where the name or logo of a broking firm appears on an advertisement or document, irrespective of whether the advertisement or document is in respect of a listed or unlisted company—

(b) the document or advertisement must conform to these rules; and

(c) the document is subject to normal documentation fees, where applicable.

Circulars and announcements to be sent to all securities holders

306. If an issuer dispatches a circular, pre-listing statement or listing particulars or announcement to the beneficial owners of any particular class of security, the issuer must dispatch a copy or summary of the document to the beneficial owners of all other classes of securities in such issuer, unless the sponsor, with the concurrence of the VFEX, considers the contents of the document as irrelevant to them.

Communication with holders of bearer securities

307. If there is a need to communicate with beneficial owners of listed bearer securities, the issuer must release an announcement referring to the communication and give an address or addresses from which copies of such communication can be obtained by beneficial owners of bearer securities.

Responsibility of issuer for disseminating information

308. Where copies of annual financial statements, abridged annual financial statements, provisional reports, interim reports, pre-listing statements or listing particulars, circulars, proxy forms and dividend or interest notices are required to be distributed to shareholders, it is the responsibility of the issuer to ensure that such distribution is made to all beneficial holders of its securities at the cost of the issuer.

Availability of pre-listing statements or circulars

309. Members of the VFEX may obtain copies of pre-listing statements or circulars by submitting a request to the sponsor for the number of copies required. It is then the duty of the sponsor to pass on such applications to the company, which is responsible for posting these copies promptly to the applicants.

(7) The VFEX may allow issuers to modify the relevant Part I and II documents required by Part XVI where full compliance would be in conflict with the requirements of this Part or the exchange where it has its primary listing.

Continuing obligations

402. (1) The VFEX will allow the requirements of the primary exchange to take precedence in relation to issuers with a secondary listing on the VFEX, except that—

(a) the annual financial statements and any other communication with shareholders must state where the primary and secondary listings of the issuer's securities are;

(b) when an issuer wishes to release any information on another exchange, it must ensure that such information is also released on the VFEX website and that such release takes place no later than the equivalent release on the other exchange:

Provided that, if the VFEX is not open for business, it must ensure that such information is released through the VFEX website at the commencement of business on the next business day. The announcement must be submitted in accordance with the Twenty-third Schedule (corporate actions and other regulatory information submission);

(c) issuers must publish, interim and year-end results, headline earnings per share and diluted headline earnings per share together with an itemised reconciliation between headline earnings and the earnings used in the calculation; and

(2) The issuer must, by no later than 31st January of each year, submit details of the volume and value of securities traded over the preceding twelve months on all exchanges where it has a listing, in order for the VFEX to consider the issuer's continued secondary listing status.

(3) If both the volume and value of securities traded on the VFEX over the preceding twelve months exceeded fifty per centum of the total volume and total value of securities traded on all exchanges where the issuer has a listing, then the issuer's listing status on the VFEX in respect of those securities may be converted to a primary listing. The converse applies when both the volume and value of securities traded on the VFEX were fifty per centum or below.

(4) The issuer must advise its shareholders, by releasing an announcement on the VFEX data portal, each time that its listing status is changed.

A majority of the votes of all shareholders present or represented by proxy at the general meeting, excluding any controlling shareholder, its associates and any party acting in concert, must be cast in favour of such a resolution. A secondary listing on another exchange only requires the approval of the issuer's directors.

(4) An issuer that has applied and has been granted permission for its VFEX-listed securities to be listed on another exchange must ensure that the securities will be accepted for transfer, without delay, if presented in any of the centres in which the securities are listed.

A foreign company with a listing on the VFEX must, whilst it remains listed on the VFEX, appoint and maintain the appointment of a person authorised to accept service of process and notices on its behalf in the international financial services centre and must notify the VFEX of such appointment and of its termination. Dual listed companies' structure

405. (1) A dual listed companies' (DLC) structure applies to an aggregated group, with combined businesses, accounted for under two separately listed companies, one housing the international financial services centre based businesses, with its primary listing on the VFEX, and the other housing the external business entities the overseas listed company with its primary listing on another exchange acceptable to the VFEX. If the primary listing of the overseas listed company is not on the VFEX, then it must have a secondary listing on the VFEX. The international financial services centre issuer and the foreign issuer together comprise the dual listed company structure.

(2) All conditions for listing in Part IV of these rules must be complied with in respect of each company comprising the dual listed company structure in order to be listed on the VFEX.

(3) The proportion of the combined business that each company comprising the dual listed company structure represents should be discussed with the VFEX well in advance of implementing the dual listed company structure in order to obtain the necessary consents or rulings in principle.

(4) The companies in the dual listed company structure must be able to demonstrate that they participate in the control of the combined business. This must be proved by a formal agreement, veto rights or, any other mechanisms acceptable to the VFEX.

(5) Every company comprising the DLC structure is required to comply with all continuing obligations.

(6) The provisions on related-party transactions set out in Part X apply to the companies comprising the dual listed company structure, but not in respect of transactions necessary to constitute the DLC structure or transactions between the companies comprising the dual listed company structure or their respective groups.

(7) Variations to any agreement governing the relationship between the companies comprising the DLC structure are considered to fall within Part X.

(8) Transactions undertaken by the companies comprising the dual listed company structure are subject to the transaction requirements set out in Part X. The categorisation tests must be calculated by comparing the whole of the target with the whole of the DLC structure.

(9) The provisions of these rules relating to controlling shareholders apply to a controlling shareholder of any company comprising the DLC structure.

(10) Common accounting policies must be used for the companies comprising the DLC structure.

(11) Aggregated annual financial statements must be published in accordance with financial standards for the aggregated DLC structure. In the event that the annual financial statements published for the aggregated dual listed company structure are not in accordance with financial standards, a comprehensive reconciliation to the financial standards must be published and presented in the currency office in use in the international financial services centre. Annual financial statements for the companies comprising the dual listed company structure may be published as supplementary information to the aggregated accounts of the DLC structure.

(12) Interim financial information, on an equivalent basis to subrule (11), on the aggregated DLC structure and for the separate companies, respectively, must be published.

(13) Where an announcement is required, it must be released in accordance with the relevant exchange's requirements and simultaneously on both the VFEX and the overseas listed company's exchange.

(14) With respect to any calculations, categorisations, or measurements in terms of the listings requirements applicable to any company comprising the dual listed company structure, the dual listed company will be regarded as one combined entity.

PART XI

TRADING PROCEDURES

Trading of securities

549. (1) The VFEX shall publish its trading–

(a) days;

(b) hours;

(c) sessions;

from time to time.

(2) For the purpose of trading on the VFEX, the time that shall apply is the time shown on the ATS.

Matching Criteria

550. The criteria for execution during continuous trading are as follows–

(a) price priority–

(i) the highest bid and the lowest offer have precedence over all other orders;

(ii) orders are ranked by price sequence in the order book;

(b) time priority–

(i) when orders are placed at the same price, the earliest one takes priority;

(ii) if a hidden order is placed and the disclosed quantity is executed, the undisclosed quantity will lose its time priority;

(c) market orders–

(i) price is given the highest priority in the system, and the market orders will have priority over limit orders;

(ii) the ATS will attempt to match the order until either the entire volume is matched or no further matching is possible;

(iii) market orders are accepted only if there are orders on the other side;

(iv) if partial execution has taken place, the unexecuted balance quantity is queued as a limit order on the last matching price, which is the last execution price.

Types of Orders

551. There are two types of orders that can be placed in the ATS–

(a) market orders; and

(b) limit orders.

Market order

552. (1) A market order is an order to buy or sell a security at the best price or prices prevailing in the market at that point in time.

(2) No price is specified for this type of order, but volume must be indicated. Price is given the highest priority in the system.

(3) Market orders have priority of execution over limit orders. Market orders cannot be amended.

Limit orders

553. (1) This type of order specifies the maximum buying price or the minimum selling price. The volume of the order must be indicated.

(2) The ATS will attempt to match the order until either the entire volume is matched or no further matching is possible within the limit price.

(3) Unless fill or kill (FoK), or immediate or cancel are specified, the unmatched volume will remain in the order book until the indicated expiration time.

(4) Limit orders can have the following attributes–

(a) qualifiers;

(b) time in force;

(c) disclosed or hidden quantity.

Qualifiers

554. Order qualifiers modify the execution conditions of an order based on volume, time and price constraints and the following are examples of order qualifiers–

(a) FoK - requires the immediate purchase or sale of a specified quantity, at a given price or better. If the whole order cannot be filled immediately, it is cancelled;

(b) immediate or cancel (IoC) - requires the immediate purchase or sale for the whole or part of the specified quantity at the specified or better price. If no immediate execution occurs, the order is cancelled. If the order is partly executed, the remainder is immediately cancelled.

Time in Force

555. Time in force limits the lifetime of an order in the order book. If an order does not indicate a time condition, it is only valid for the trading hours for a particular day on which it was input—

(a) good till cancelled (GTC) - this order remains valid till cancelled 30 days from the day on which it was input. The order is automatically cancelled by the system on the expiry date. GTC orders cannot have disclosed or hidden quantity and minimum fill attributes;

(b) good till day (GTD) - this order remains valid for a fixed number of days, which should not be more than 30 days. If it is not executed within the validity period, it will expire at the end of the final day and be automatically deleted from the list of pending orders. GTD orders cannot have disclosed or hidden quantity and minimum fill attributes;

(c) day order - this order is valid until the close of the trading day. It is automatically cancelled at the end of the trading day.

Hidden Order

556. A hidden order has the following characteristics–

(a) the order size is revealed at the disclosed quantity and not at the full order quantity;

(b) the disclosed quantity will cause execution to occur in blocks of the disclosed quantity;

(c) hidden quantity will not be visible to the market;

(d) when the disclosed quantity is matched, a new order with the same initial volume is generated automatically. This order will be given a new time stamp. The process will continue until the entire hidden quantity is matched or the order is cancelled or expired;

(e) disclosed quantity attribute is not valid for FoK or IoC orders;

(f) disclosed quantity attribute is only valid for day orders.

Tick Size

557. The VFEX shall determine the tick sizes for any security.

Floor price

558. The VFEX may determine the minimum price that can be traded on each security.

Price spread

559. (1) The VFEX shall determine the maximum spread allowed for each trading day on each security.

(2) All orders outside the permissible spread shall be rejected by the ATS.

Trading halts

560. (1) There are two types of trading halts–

(a) market halt; and

(b) security halt.

(2) A halt may be effected where one or more of the following events happen–

(a) the VFEX discovers that the trading activity in a security or securities–

(i) is being or could be undertaken by persons possessing unpublished price-sensitive information that relates to a security;

(ii) is being influenced by a manipulative or deceptive trading practice;

(iii) may otherwise give rise to an artificial price for a security; or

(iv) will lead to the market circuit breaker as set by the VFEX being exceeded;

(b) there is a technical failure of the ATS.

(3) Where, due to circumstances provided in subrule (2), the VFEX determines that there is a need to halt trading, it shall notify members that all members should halt trading until such time as they are advised of the rectification of the issue.

(4) No member may trade any security for the duration of the halt, but may cancel orders from the ATS.

(5) Any member who trades a security during the period of any halt shall be liable to a fine not exceeding level two.

(6) In the event that trading in one or more securities is suspended at or around the time specified for the establishment of daily settlement prices, the VFEX may either—

(a) change times for that trading day; or

(b) set prices at levels it determines as a fair reflection of the market.

(7) In the event that trading in one or more securities is suspended, the VFEX may determine whether or not to resume trading for that day.

Order and trade adjustment

561. Where, on the request of one party and subject to the consent of the other party, the VFEX may permit the adjustment of a trade.

Official price list and other market data

562. (1) The VFEX shall publish information on the prices, traded volumes, indices, and any other market data.

(2) No member shall be allowed to publish information on prices, trading volumes, indices, or other market data without obtaining prior approval from the VFEX.

(3) Any member who contravenes subrule (2) shall be liable to a fine not exceeding level two.

Daily Settlement Price

563. (1) The VFEX shall, on each trading day, determine and publish a daily settlement price for each class of security registered on the VFEX at that time.

(2) Where the daily closing price referred to in subrule (2) is not available, the VFEX shall determine the daily settlement price based on a fair value calculation which is consistent with cash market value.

Trading Records

564. A member must maintain records of each trade made by its representatives for the member's own account for a period of not less than ten years from the date of such trade, containing—

(a) the time and date of receipt of instructions;

(b) the nature of the instructions received;

(c) the person who received the instructions;

(d) the time and date of execution of those instructions, and the person who executed the instructions; and

(e) any other information as determined from time to time by the VFEX.

Prevention and detection of market abuse

565. (1) A securities dealer's compliance monitoring procedures must specifically include procedures to monitor orders entered into, and transactions executed on the VFEX trading system by the member and its employees, with the objective of identifying and taking appropriate action in relation to orders or trades that may constitute a breach of the provisions of all applicable legislation.

(2) In order to detect market abuse, the dealers must consider, among other things, the following–

(a) the identity of the parties to the transaction;

(b) the perceived intention of the parties to the transaction;

(c) the frequency and pattern of transactions over a period of time;

(d) the effect of the transaction on market prices or volumes;

(e) the size and timing of the transaction; or

(f) a combination of two or more of these factors.

PART XII

DISPUTE RESOLUTION

Dispute resolution

566. (1) Where members have a dispute that affects operations on the VFEX, the aggrieved party shall submit a written report to the VFEX explaining the nature of the dispute.

(2) After receiving a dispute from a member, the VFEX shall facilitate a dispute resolution mechanism where the members choose to follow the dispute resolution mechanism.

(3) The dispute resolution mechanism referred to in subrule (2) that the parties may engage in is—

(a) conciliation; or

(b) mediation; or

(c) arbitration.

(4) In the event that the members have a dispute regarding the interpretation or obligations of the rules, the VFEX shall deal with the matter.

(5) Where a member is aggrieved by the decision of the VFEX, a member may appeal to the Centre.

(g) On receipt of such acceptance from the Issuer or its Transfer Secretary, VFEX shall reduce the security balances to the extent of the dematerialised securities in the respective Participant's or the respective Beneficial Owner's account, as the case may be.

Freezing of depository accounts

590. (1) Every Beneficial Owner shall have an option to freeze his or her account (either for debits, credits or both) with the Participant so as to render it inoperable.

(4) An account frozen shall be activated on instructions in writing from the Beneficial Owner, where it has been frozen at the instance of a Beneficial Owner, and on receipt of instructions from any regulatory authority which instructed the freezing.

(5) The Participant shall not effect any debit entry or any such other transaction unless the instructions or order for freezing the account has been withdrawn, revoked, vacated, set aside or modified as aforesaid. However, the Participant shall credit benefits to a frozen account.

(6) VFEX shall freeze or direct a Participant to freeze an account opened by the Participant with itself in respect of securities held by the Participant in its own name, as VFEX deems fit or as instructed by any regulatory body.

Transfer of balances

591. (1) No Participant shall initiate any debit or credit in the account of any Beneficial Owner except on the instructions of the Beneficial Owner or their nominated representative, or on the sanction or instructions of VFEX. The reasons shall be recorded in writing by VFEX.

(2) The mode and the form of authorisation shall be specified in the operational procedures.

(3) Where there is a transfer of security from the account of one Beneficial Owner of one Participant to the account of a Beneficial Owner of another Participant, both Participants must advise such instructions for delivery and receipt, respectively, to VFEX. After the instructions are matched in the CSD system, such transfer shall be effected by VFEX through its CSD.

(4) In the event of a Participant ceasing to be a Participant, the Beneficial Owner of that Participant may either request the rematerialisation of securities or request the transfer of securities in its account to an account opened with another Participant.

(2) VFEX shall take all reasonable steps to avoid releasing any information that may identify a particular client or customer of a Participant.

(3) When VFEX is required to disclose confidential information concerning a Participant that is directed exclusively to the activities of a particular Participant, it shall give notice to the Participant of the request before making the disclosure unless the terms of any applicable statute, regulation, ruling or order prohibit such notice.

(c) such confidentiality obligation shall not apply to any information that is or becomes generally available to the public, otherwise than as a result of the breach of the rules.

(2) Such confidentiality obligation shall not preclude the disclosure of such confidential information to any of Participant's officers, directors, employees, clients or customers in the manner authorised in the rules, or agents that are reasonably necessary—

(a) for the use or proposed use of the services or any new service by the Participant;

(b) or for the development or operation of Services or any new service by VFEX; or

Rights and uses

601. (1) Each Participant acknowledges and agrees that it acquires no rights or licenses in or to the VFEX Trademarks or Other Marks, other than the limited, non-exclusive, revocable and non-transferable right to use as outlined in these rules. Any unauthorised use by the Participant of the VFEX Trademarks or Other Marks or any other intellectual property right or proprietary right of VFEX is strictly prohibited.

(2) Each Participant shall promptly notify VFEX of any conflicting use or any act of infringement or passing off which comes to its attention involving the VFEX Trademarks or Other Marks or any variation or imitation thereof by unauthorised persons. Disclaimer

602. Certain services provided by VFEX to the Participants are dependent upon the provision to and use by VFEX of information, including Security Information, from third parties. VFEX represents that it has the right to grant Participants the right to use the Services and the VFEX CSD System, but otherwise does not guarantee or make any representations or warranties whatsoever, and there are no conditions, express or implied, in fact or in law, with respect to the accuracy, adequacy, timeliness, completeness, sequence, merchantable quality or fitness for any particular purpose of any such information, which is provided on an "as is", "as available" basis.

603. At the end of each year, a Participant shall be required to provide to VFEX a declaration in the form provided by VFEX, signed by an [Authorised Signatory] on behalf of the Participant, confirming that the Participant's use of services complies with the VFEX CSD rules.

PART V

CLEARING AND SETTLEMENT SERVICES

General provisions

604. (1) For Participants in VFEX CSD, who are also members of the VFEX or of any other trading platform, VFEX will render the services of determining, calculating, netting and facilitating the settling of obligations, arising from securities transactions concluded on the VFEX or that other trading platform or organised securities market with book-entry transfer of securities in the participants' accounts and cash transfer (clearing and settlement services) in a manner, specified in this Part.

(2) All trades concluded on the VFEX are subject to clearing and settlement through VFEX CSD.

Clearing and settlement

605. (1) The reporting and confirmation of a trade to VFEX constitutes the agreement of CSD Participants and VFEX to clear and settle such trade through the VFEX CSD system in accordance with the VFEX Participant Agreement.

(2) No trade can be effected through the CSD if a party to the trade, a Participant, is not. A non-Participant who desires to effect trades through the CSD shall appoint a Participant to act on their behalf as the agent of such non-Participant.

(3) No amendment may be made to any trade reported to VFEX CSD without the approval of the exchange and, when not entered into on the Central Securities Depository, by all Participants involved in the trade.

(4) The settlement of trades is by means of delivery of eligible securities coinciding with payment of funds, delivery versus payment, where securities will be settled gross and funds on a multilateral net basis.

Settlement of transactions

606. (1) All trades between participants in securities of issuers admitted on the CSD, unless the procedures prescribe otherwise, are reported and submitted for clearance to VFEX and for settlement by Participants through the Reserve Bank of Zimbabwe (RBZ).

(2) On every business day that one or more trades are recorded in a Participant's account, VFEX combines the trades and provides the Participant with reports at such times as are set forth in the operational procedures.

(3) On the approved Settlement Day, when Eligible Securities are available in the Participants' Trading Accounts and are sufficient to cover the Eligible Securities and funds elements of the Settlement, the trade is automatically settled by VFEX in liaison with the RBZ.

(4) Upon Settlement of a trade, the transferor's Securities Account is debited with the Eligible Securities being the object of the trade and the Participant's Funds Account is credited with the corresponding payment. Simultaneously, the transferee's Securities Account is credited with Eligible Securities being the object of the trade, and the Participant's Funds Account is debited with the corresponding payment.

(5) All net funds payment obligations arising on the Settlement date are effected and settled through the Custodian Bank of each Participant at 09:30 am Central African Time (CAT) on the Settlement date through the crediting and debiting by the RBZ of the respective Custodian Bank's Account based on the net position of each Participant as a result of Settlement.

(6) Upon completion and settlement of the Eligible Securities and payment, the trade is final and irrevocable and cannot be unwound.

(7) Participants are not permitted to attach any condition or restriction on the Settlement of trades, and such conditions and restrictions that are imposed contrary to the rules and procedures are void and ineffective, and noncompliance therewith does not invalidate Settlement.

Rules governing settlement exposure of participants and custodian banks

607. (1) The Participant's Exposure, in respect of each Participant, will be computed by VFEX daily on a post-trade rolling basis, taking into consideration the settlement risk on account of purchases and sales pending settlement entered into by such Depository Participants.

(2) The Participant Exposure will be calculated daily on a rolling basis based on trades pending settlement. The transactions pending settlement will be netted off to determine the Participant's due-by or due-to position.

(3) The Participant's exposure to the market shall be managed through the lodging of collateral security at the RBZ by each participant.

Collateral Security

608. (1) Each Participant shall enter into a collateral security agreement with the VFEX. The security agreement shall govern the determination, lodging and maintenance of collateral security by Participants.

(2) The collateral security to be deposited by each Participant shall take into account the Participant's exposure to the market, calculated on a multilateral net basis and the settlement cycle.

(3) The collateral security required from each Participant shall be recalculated on a monthly basis, taking into consideration the exposures for the preceding month. In the event that the collateral level has increased, the Participant shall be requested to top up the security.

(4) No withdrawals are permitted in the event that the calculated collateral is less than the amount deposited.

(5) The collateral security of a Custodian Bank shall be held in the following forms—

(a) cash denominated in United States Dollars (USD) deposited with the RBZ;

(b) marketable securities subject to the agreement and approval of all CSD Participants and the RBZ. A discount shall be applied to any non-cash assets held as collateral.

(6) The collateral security shall be used solely for the purpose of meeting shortfalls on the settlement obligations of the Participant.

(7) The VFEX shall have full power of attorney to withdraw from the collateral account amounts required to be withdrawn to meet any shortfall on the Participant's settlement obligations. The Participant shall not withdraw any amount from the collateral sub-account without the prior written approval of VFEX.

(8) In the event that VFEX has requested that the RBZ transfer money from the collateral account of the Participant to meet a shortfall on its settlement obligations, the Participant shall replenish that amount by no later than 11.00 am CAT on the first business day following the date of transfer. In the event that the Participant fails to replenish its collateral, VFEX shall have the right to immediately suspend the Participant from participating in securities settlement.

Procedure to monitor Participant exposure

609. (1) VFEX shall prepare a schedule computing the exposure of each CSD Participant on a daily basis, taking into consideration the provisions contained in these rules. The exposure in respect of each Participant shall be communicated by VFEX to the respective Participant or Custodian Bank on a daily basis.

(2) VFEX shall monitor the exposures of the CSD Participants on an ongoing basis. Notwithstanding the requirement for monthly recalculation of collateral security, VFEX can request that the Custodian Bank increase the amount of collateral at any point in time during the month in the event that the Participant's exposure reaches the level of the collateral lodged.

(3) The Participant shall have 48 hours to meet the request for a top-up of collateral security. In the event the Participant fails to meet the top-up request, VFEX shall have the right to immediately suspend the Participant from participating in securities settlement.

(4) If the Participant does not comply with these requirements, it shall constitute a violation of these rules.

(5) If the Participant is in breach of the collateral security requirement, VFEX shall notify members of the Exchanges not to execute any purchase orders or short sales on behalf of the CSD Participant until such time as the Participant complies with the rules. Any trades carried out by members of the Exchanges before the Participant complies with the collateral security requirements shall not be settled through the VFEX CSD system.

PART VI

(f) any breach by the Participant of its obligations, representations or warranties under the legal documents.

Indemnity by Participant on claims against VFEX and others

614. (1) Each Participant shall indemnify and hold harmless the VFEX, its directors and employees from and against any indemnified claim as described in Rule 617 (2), suffered or incurred by or made against them by any person with regard to the services.

(2) For the purposes of this rule, an indemnified claim is any loss, damage, cost, expense, liability or claim (including the cost of legal counsel to advise on or defend against such claims) that arises from or is in any way connected with a service, and which is described in the rules, or which relates to—

(a) Securities held by VFEX for the Participant; or

(b) any action taken or omitted by VFEX with respect to Securities held for the Participant at the time such action is taken or omitted.

(3) VFEX shall give to the CSD Participant notice of any matter in which an indemnified person may require an indemnity from the Participant and shall explain to the Participant how the indemnified claim is related to the Participant's obligation to indemnify.

(4) The indemnified person and the Participant shall cooperate fully with one another in the investigation, negotiation, settlement or defence of the indemnified claim.

(5) VFEX shall give the Participant an opportunity to contest the indemnified claim at the Participant's own expense, provided that the Participant gives assurance (acceptable to VFEX in its sole discretion) of payment of any loss, damage, cost, expense, liability, award or claim that might be incurred by VFEX as a result of such proceeding.

(6) The Participant providing the indemnity shall have conduct of the litigation, provided that VFEX may choose at its own expense to be separately represented by its own counsel in such proceedings or to assume the conduct of the litigation. The Participant's obligation to indemnify VFEX shall not be affected by the fact that VFEX exercises its right to such representation or conduct of the litigation.

(7) The Participant or VFEX shall inform one another if either receives or proposes to make an offer of settlement with respect to an indemnified claim.

(8) If the Participant proposes to make or accept any settlement of an indemnified claim, it shall give notice to VFEX, and VFEX shall either agree to accept the settlement or direct that the proceeding continue.

(9) If VFEX directs that the proceeding continue, VFEX shall not seek any indemnity from the Participant for the amount by which any final settlement or award exceeds the settlement amount proposed by the Participant.

(10) If VFEX proposes to make or accept any settlement of an indemnified claim, it shall give notice to the Participant, and the Participant shall either agree to accept the settlement or direct that the proceeding continue.

(11) The Participant may direct that the proceeding continues only if it provides any additional assurance requested by VFEX in its sole discretion of payment of any loss, damage, cost, expense, liability, award or claim that might be incurred by VFEX as a result of such proceeding.

(12) If the Participant directs that the proceeding continues, the Participant shall be solely responsible for the amount by which any final settlement or award exceeds the settlement amount proposed by VFEX, in addition to its responsibility to indemnify VFEX with respect to the settlement amount.

Liability and indemnity

615. (1) VFEX shall not be liable to any Participant for any loss of opportunity, profit, market, goodwill, interest or use of money or Securities, or any other special, indirect or consequential loss, damage, cost, expense, liability or claim (in this rule, a "consequential loss") suffered or incurred by any Participant arising from any service, including a consequential loss arising from or associated with a Participant loss or a loss of Securities. VFEX shall not be liable to any Participant for any loss, damage, cost, expense, liability, or claim suffered or incurred directly by a Participant and or where the same loss, damage, cost, expense, liability or claim arises from any action taken by VFEX in accordance with a lawful direction given by a regulatory body having jurisdiction over VFEX.

(2) A nominee, or a partner, director, officer, employee or agent of VFEX, shall have no personal liability to a Participant for any act or omission in relation to the Services other than liability for a fraudulent act of the individual concerned. The foregoing exclusion of individuals' personal liability shall not affect VFEX’s liability for a Participant loss or a loss of Securities.

PART VII

DEPOSITORY SERVICES

General provisions

616. The Depository Service is a service provided by the VFEX by which the VFEX CSD holds Securities on behalf of Participants. A Participant may deposit Securities into or withdraw Securities from the VFEX CSD, and the VFEX CSD may accept Securities from a Participant for deposit, and credit the account of the Participant with the Securities it deposits.

Holding of securities

617. VFEX holds the Securities in the Depository Service on behalf of each Participant to whose Accounts such Securities are from time to time credited and subject to the instructions of that Participant.

Safekeeping of securities

618. (1) Only Securities that VFEX has determined are eligible may be deposited into or held in the Depository Service. The VFEX may determine from time to time that a particular Security shall be ineligible for the Depository Service or for any service.

(2) The procedure to deposit securities for safekeeping shall be as follows—

(a) delivery of a Security to VFEX by a Participant shall be credited to the owner of the Security in the account of the Participant in VFEX CSD;

(b) Participants may deliver Securities to or deposit Securities with VFEX (in the name and account of the Participant or in the name and for the account of the Participant's clients) on any business day and during such hours as may be prescribed by VFEX.

(3) All Securities shall be in the form prescribed by VFEX from time to time. VFEX shall refuse to accept Securities if they are not lodged in the format specified by VFEX.

(4) Each Participant warrants to VFEX that all Securities delivered to or deposited with VFEX are valid, genuine and in good delivery form, neither the initial receipt by VFEX of such Securities nor the crediting of such receipt to the Participant's nominated account position shall constitute a waiver of such warranty.

(5) If VFEX determines at any time that Securities previously delivered by a Participant to VFEX were invalid, not genuine, or not in good delivery form, VFEX shall return such Securities to the Participant and adjust the Participant's account position accordingly.

Pledging and hypothecation

619. (1) The pledgor and the pledgee must each have an account in the CSD System to create a pledge. However, the pledgor and the pledgee may hold accounts through two different Participants.

(2) For the purpose of creation of any pledge or hypothecation of securities, VFEX or a Participant shall, on an application by any Beneficial Owner, confirm that the Beneficial Owner is entitled, in its name, to such number of securities of such Issuer as are proposed to be pledged or hypothecated.

(3) VFEX shall on receipt of an application for the creation of pledge or hypothecation by the Beneficial Owner supported by relevant documentation, within five business days from the date of receipt thereof, create and record the pledge or hypothecation by electronically locking or freezing the securities held in the account of the pledger by transferring the securities in a sub account marked "PLEDGED" and shall issue an advice of the same to the pledgor and pledgee.

(4) VFEX or a Participant shall not refuse permission to the pledgor or hypothecator to create a pledge or hypothecation in respect of securities available for pledge or hypothecation unless operations in respect of those securities are restrained or frozen by virtue of any regulatory directive, and shall advise the intending pledgor and pledgee of its decisions setting out its reasons for such refusal.

(5) Unless otherwise ordered by a Court of competent jurisdiction, no entry of pledge or hypothecation shall be cancelled by VFEX without the prior concurrence of the pledgee. On receipt of notice of cancellation of the pledge or hypothecation from the pledgee, VFEX shall unlock or release the securities forthwith for which the pledge or hypothecation was created. VFEX, on cancellation of the pledge or hypothecation, shall inform the pledger and subsequently transfer the securities.

NINTH SCHEDULE (rules 130(4), 144(1), 273, 289(1) AND 291(1))

PART A

INDEPENDENT FAIRNESS OPINIONS

As the issues of independence and competence will be unique to every transaction, this schedule provides guidance rather than specific rules. The overriding objective is to ensure that the board of directors receives competent and adequate advice from an acceptable, independent and competent third party regarding a transaction. The board of directors must ensure that any director who is party to the transaction (being the subject matter of the fairness opinion) is excluded from the process of mandating the expert and providing the necessary recommendations to shareholders. The issuer must confirm this in terms of the Schedule 9C declaration.

9.1 A fairness opinion must—

(a) be prepared by an independent professional expert, acceptable to the VFEX, who has no material interest either in the transaction or in the success or failure of the transaction;

(b make appropriate disclosure where the independent professional expert has any existing or continuing relationship with the issuer or any other parties involved in the transaction; and

(c) set out all of the material factors and assumptions taken into account in the preparation of the statement.

9.2 At an early stage in a contemplated transaction and preferably before engaging a party to prepare a fairness opinion, the sponsor, on behalf of the issuer, must submit to the VFEX—

(a) a declaration of independence completed by the nominated independent professional expert, in the form set out in Schedule 9A;

(b) a declaration of competence completed by the nominated independent professional expert, in the form set out in Schedule 9B; and

(c) a declaration by the issuer, in the form set out in Schedule 9C. The above declarations must be submitted for every transaction.

9.3 The VFEX may, unless the issuer is able to provide additional information to satisfy the VFEX, require the issuer to appoint a different independent professional expert to prepare the fairness opinion if (based on the information received in terms of subparagraph 9.2 and the VFEX's investigation thereof) the VFEX is not satisfied as to—

(a) the independence of the nominated independent professional expert; or

(b) the competence of the nominated independent professional expert with regard to the particular transaction; or

(c) any reasons given by the issuer for the appointment of the nominated professional expert.

9.4 The VFEX undertakes to give the sponsor its approval or disapproval for the appointment of the independent professional expert within 120 hours of receipt of the duly completed declarations required in subparagraph 9.2. No documentation will be accepted for review by the VFEX until approval for the appointment has been given.

9.5 Before issuing a fairness opinion, the independent professional expert must perform a valuation of the issuer or the subject of the transaction. Where a valuation has been prepared by a competent third party (in respect of assets such as property or mineral reserves and rights, for example), the independent professional expert should set out the manner in which he or she has satisfied himself or herself that he or she can rely upon the valuation.

9.6 The VFEX's request for the opinion of an independent professional expert may result in a statement that the transaction is fair. Where this is not the case and the fairness is impaired, the independent professional expert should give full reasons for their opinion in this regard. Even if the opinion is that the transaction is fair, the independent professional expert must, where appropriate, emphasise critical matters upon which it has relied in arriving at the opinion.

9.7 The VFEX only requires that the expert opine on the fairness of a transaction, though it would allow the expert to opine on the reasonableness, provided detailed disclosure is made in this regard. Fairness is based on quantitative issues, and reasonableness on qualitative issues. For illustrative purposes, in the case of a disposal to a related party, the transaction may be said to be fair if the consideration payable by the related party is equal to or greater than the value of the business that is the subject of the transaction. In other instances, even though the consideration may be lower than the value of the business, the transaction may be said to be reasonable in certain circumstances, after considering other significant qualitative factors.

9.8 The content of the fairness opinion is at the discretion of the independent professional expert, but must include at least the following basic elements—

(a) title;

(b) addressee;

(c) date of statement;

(d) opening or introductory paragraph with the purpose for which the report has been prepared;

(e) reference to the relevant VFEX listings requirement in terms of which the opinion is being issued;

(f)headings identifying the major sections, including, but not limited to, introduction, procedures and the opinion;

(g) an explanation as to how the terms "fair" and, if so, mandated by the board of directors "reasonable", as indicated in subparagraph 5.6, apply in the context of the specific transaction;

(h) details of the information and sources of information;

(i)identification and discussion of both the external and internal key value drivers, sensitivities performed and assumptions used;

(j)if applicable, a summary of the manner in which the independent professional expert has satisfied itself as to the appropriateness and reasonableness of the underlying information and assumptions;

(k) a full explanation of the significant factors that led to the opinion given;

(l) any limiting conditions;

(m) the relationships between the issuer and any other parties involved in the transaction, and the independent professional expert, as required by subparagraph 9.1(b) above and as identified in the declaration completed in terms of subparagraph 9.2(a) above and disclosure of the number and value of shares acquired, if the expert's fees were paid for in shares;

(n) confirmation that a valuation has been performed and identification of the valuation methodologies applied, and, where there has been reliance upon a third-party valuation, confirmation that the independent expert is satisfied with this valuation;

(o) a summary of other factors taken into account or procedures carried out in reaching the opinion;

(p) a statement that an individual shareholder's decision may be influenced by such shareholder's particular circumstances and, accordingly, that a shareholder should consult an independent adviser if in any doubt as to the merits or otherwise of the transaction;

(q) the opinion;

(r)the independent professional expert's name (including registration number if the expert is registered anywhere with any professional body), address and authorised signature; and

(s)any other information that the independent professional expert feels is appropriate.

9.9 The date on which the opinion is issued must be the same as the date that the directors authorise the submission of the relevant circular to the VFEX for approval.

9.10 The independent professional expert has a duty to evaluate all the information provided in a critical manner, as required in subparagraph 9.8(j) above. This in no way implies that the information must be audited or that the accuracy of all information must be checked. There must be a statement as to how the information has been evaluated and whether or not the expert believes that such information is reasonable, particularly where the information contains forecasts prepared by the management or directors of the issuer. Any statement indicating that there has been no independent verification or any other similar statement would only be permissible subject to the following—

(a) the experts stating clearly what is meant by "no independent verification"; and

(b) such statement does not invalidate any work that has been done in terms of this paragraph.

9.11 The VFEX has the right, but not the obligation, to request the independent professional expert to—

(a) clarify any aspect of the statement; or

(b) expand the statement so as to address any issues of concern to the VFEX.

Share warrants to bearer

14.50 Provision should not be made for the issue of a new share warrant in place of one lost unless suitable documentation is provided to the satisfaction of the company concerned.

14.51 Where the memorandum prohibits the issue of share warrants and the articles make provision for the issue thereof, the following clause should be inserted in the articles:

"Notwithstanding the provisions contained in these articles with reference to the issue of share warrants, the company is prohibited from issuing share warrants unless and until the objects of the company are altered to permit the issue of share warrants."

Capital

14.52 Provision should be made that new securities created shall be offered to existing shareholders pro rata to their shareholding or that new securities are only to be disposed of or dealt with as directed by a general meeting of shareholders. The articles may, however, in addition to the above, provide that the shareholders in a general meeting may authorise the directors to dispose of the new securities as the directors in their discretion may think fit, subject to the provisions of the Act and to the listings requirements of the VFEX.

Borrowing powers

14.53 That the directors may, from time to time at their discretion, raise or borrow to secure the payment of any sum or sums of money for the purposes of the company, provided that the total amount owing by the company in respect of monies so raised, borrowed or secured shall not exceed the amount authorised by its listed holding company.

Quorum at general meetings

14.54 The articles must provide that quorum at a general meeting and at an adjourned or postponed meeting shall be at least two members, present in person or by proxy, of whom one member shall be the representative of the holding company, or if a company is a wholly owned subsidiary, the representative of the holding company shall suffice.

14.56 The articles should provide that if the number of directors falls below the minimum provided in the articles, the remaining directors shall only be permitted to act for the purpose of filling vacancies or calling general meetings of shareholders.

14.57 If the articles contain a provision that a director may be employed in any other capacity in the company or as a director or employee of a controlled or subsidiary company, a further provision should be made to the effect that his appointment and remuneration in respect of such other office must be determined by a disinterested quorum.

14.58 The period to be allowed before the date of an annual general meeting for the nomination of a new director must be such as to give sufficient time after the receipt of the notice of the holding of the meeting for nominations to reach the company's office.

14.59 If the quorum of directors is two, the chairperson shall not be permitted to have a casting vote if only two directors are present at a meeting of directors.

14.60 The directors shall be entitled to elect a chairperson and a deputy chairperson as well as determine the period for which they shall hold office.

14.61 A resolution signed by all directors (or their alternates, if applicable) inserted in the minute book shall be as valid and effective as if it had been passed at a meeting of directors. Any such resolution may consist of several documents, each of which may be signed by one or more directors (or their alternates, if applicable) and shall be deemed to have been passed on the date on which it was signed by the last director who signed it (unless a statement to the contrary is made in that resolution).

Notices

14.67 Notices must be sent to all registered members. Notices to the holders of share warrants, unless the conditions of issue provide that such holders are to receive notices, shall be given by advertising in Harare and in the town or district where the registered office of the company is situated, if such registered office is situated outside Harare, in a daily newspaper in English and one other official language. The articles should provide accordingly.

Contents of Articles for Issuers

14.69 The following provisions must be included in the Articles of Issuers, unless otherwise indicated below.

Unissued securities

14.70 Unissued equity securities shall be offered to existing shareholders, pro rata to their shareholdings, unless such securities must be issued for an acquisition of assets. However, the Articles must provide that shareholders in a general meeting may authorise the directors to issue unissued securities, and or grant options to subscribe for unissued securities, as the directors in their discretion deem fit, provided that such corporate action(s) have been approved by the VFEX and are subject to these Listing Requirements.

Transferability of securities and transfer of securities

14.71 (a) Securities for which listing is sought must be fully paid up and freely transferable, unless otherwise required by statute. The VFEX will not list shares that are not fully paid for upon listing.

(b) All authorities to sign transfer deeds granted by holders of securities for the purpose of transferring securities that may be lodged, produced or exhibited with or to the company at any of its transfer offices shall, as between the company and the grantor of such authorities, be taken and deemed to continue and remain in full force and effect, and the company may allow the same to be acted upon until such time as express notice in writing of the revocation of the same shall have been given and lodged at the company's transfer offices at which the authority was lodged, produced or exhibited. Even after the giving and lodging of such notices, the company shall be entitled to give effect to any instruments signed under the authority to sign, and certified by any officer of the company, as being in order before the giving and lodging of such notice.

Rules

14.73 The directors' power to make, amend or appeal rules as contemplated in the Act must be prohibited.

Preferences, rights, limitations and other share terms

14.74 (a) Securities in each class for which listing is applied must rank pari passu in respect of all rights. It must be noted that a statement that "securities in each class rank pari passu" shall be understood to have the meaning attributed thereto in terms of Rule 131(1) of these rules.

(b) Every holder of an ordinary share must have one vote in respect of each share that he holds and must be entitled to vote at every general or annual general meeting, whether in person or by proxy.

(i) the creation of any class of shares;

(ii) the variation of any preferences, rights, limitations and other terms attaching to any class of shares;

(iii) the conversion of one class of shares into one or more other classes;

(iv) an increase in the number of securities of a class;

In such instances, the holders of such shares may be allowed to vote at the meeting of ordinary shareholders, subject to paragraph (c) above. No resolution of shareholders of the company shall be proposed or passed, unless a special resolution of the holders of the shares in that class has approved the amendment.

"No further securities ranking in priority to, or pari passu with, existing preference shares, of any class, shall be created without a special resolution passed at a separate general meeting of such preference shareholders.";

(f)Preferences, rights, limitations or other terms of any class of shares of an issuer must not be varied, and no resolution may be proposed to shareholders for rights to include such variation in response to any objectively ascertainable external fact or facts as provided for in the Banking (Victoria Falls International Financial Services Centre) (Companies) Regulations, 2026;

(g) Subject to the provisions of paragraph (c) above, the Articles may provide that holders of preference shares shall have the right to vote at any general or annual general meeting of the listed company—

(i) during any special period, as provided for in (iii) below, during which any dividend, any part of any dividend on such preference shares or any redemption payment thereon remains in arrears and unpaid; or

(ii) in regard to any resolution proposed for the winding-up of the company or the reduction of its capital;

(iii) the period referred to in paragraph (i) above shall be the period commencing on a day specified in the Articles, not being more than six months after the due date of the dividend or redemption payment in question or, where no due date is specified, after the end of the financial year of the company in respect of which such dividend accrued or such redemption payment became due.

Capitalisation issues

14.75 Any capitalisation issue by an issuer must at least be subject to the fulfilment of the requirements set out in the Act. The issuer's Articles may not call for any less stringent requirements.

Scrip dividend and cash dividend elections

14.76 The grant of the right of election must not be prohibited by the Articles.

Payments to securities holders

14.77 Payments to securities holders must be provided for in accordance with these rules and must not provide that capital shall be repaid upon the basis that it may be called up again.

Resolutions and meetings

14.80 (a) The notice periods referred to in this paragraph and paragraph (b) below are not applicable where the company adheres to the Act. The passing of a special resolution is to be subject to the approval of at least 75 per centum of the votes cast by all equity securities holders present in person, or represented by proxy, at the general meeting or annual general meeting convened to approve such resolution and must be subject to a minimum notice period of 21 calendar days.

(b) An ordinary resolution is to be subject to a minimum notice period of 21 calendar days.

(c) There must be no prohibition or restriction on the issuer from calling any meeting for the purposes of adhering to these rules.

A failure by the listed company to have the minimum number of directors during the three-month period does not limit or negate the authority of the board of directors or invalidate anything done by the board of directors or the company. After the expiry of the three- month period, the remaining directors shall only be permitted to act for the purpose of filling vacancies or calling general meetings of shareholders;

(h) A decision that could be voted on at a meeting of the board of directors of a company may, instead, be adopted by written consent of a majority of the directors, given in person or by electronic communication, provided that each director has received notice of the matter to be decided. Such resolution, inserted in the minute book, shall be as valid and effective as if it had been passed at a meeting of directors. Any such resolution may consist of several documents and shall be deemed to have been passed on the date on which it was signed by the last director who signed it (unless a statement to the contrary is made in that resolution);

(i) Life directorships and directorships for an indefinite period are not permissible;

Such adjustments should give a participant entitlement to the same proportion of the equity capital as that to which he or she was previously entitled—

TWENTIETH SCHEDULE (RULES 20, 22)

SPONSOR'S UNDERTAKING

20.1 The following must be included in a letter from the sponsor to the VFEX when appointed by an issuer for a specific matter or transaction—

(a) that they will discharge their responsibility as a sponsor under the listings requirements for the purposes of the appointment;

(b) that they will advise the VFEX, in writing, without delay, of their resignation or dismissal from an appointment, giving details of any relevant facts or circumstances and that they should notify the VFEX if they are subject to any disciplinary or legal proceedings together with the fact that they will not perform the role of sponsor unless they are independent except with the specific permission of the VFEX;

(c) a description of the interest held by the sponsor, his or her firm and any partner or director of that firm in the issuer or any of its subsidiaries; and

(d) that they acknowledge that the VFEX may censure them if the VFEX considers that they are in breach of their responsibilities and that the VFEX may publicise the fact that they have done so and the reasons for their action.

Qualifications

20.2 The following criteria must be met by a sponsor in order to satisfy the VFEX that it is competent to fulfil the role of sponsor—

(a) Employment of staff with relevant experience—

(i) a sponsor will be expected to have staff who have considerable relevant corporate finance experience;

(ii) a sponsor must be able to demonstrate to the VFEX's satisfaction that at least three of its executive staff were registered as approved executives by the VFEX and will continue to be so registered subject to (iv) and subparagraph 20.14; or

(iii) have passed an examination as approved by the VFEX from time to time; and

(iv) each has relevant practical experience in advising on the general application of the Listings requirements under the supervision of an Approved Executive in accordance with (iii). Such executive staff will be classified as Approved Executives and recorded as such by the VFEX;

(v) an Approved Executive who is providing the supervision referred to in paragraph

(iv) above must—

A. notify the VFEX in writing at the commencement of the relevant period, providing full details of the candidate; and

B. declare to the VFEX at the end of the relevant period, that the candidate is suitable to be an approved Executive who will be able to properly fulfil all the responsibilities of a sponsor;

(vi) if a candidate moves from one employer to another and wishes to continue with his programme of practical experience, then arrangements must be made in order that an Approved Executive with the new employer continues with the necessary supervision. Before embarking on this exercise, the Approved Executive must obtain full details of the candidate's previous experience;

(vii) from time to time, the VFEX will arrange courses relating to the Listings Requirements, and all Approved Executives must attend these in order to remain registered;

(viii) the sponsor's Approved Executives must not have been—

A. convicted of an offence resulting from dishonesty, fraud or embezzlement;

B. censured or fined by a self-regulatory organisation or recognised professional body;

C. barred from entry into any profession or occupation; or

D. convicted in any jurisdiction of any criminal offence or an offence under legislation relating to the Act, have been a director, alternate director or officer of a company at the time such company was convicted of any similar offence;

(ix) if the relevant criteria detailed in (i) to (iv) above are not satisfied, the VFEX may still accept the applicant as a sponsor, provided that such sponsor has demonstrated to the VFEX's satisfaction that it has the necessary expertise and adequacy of staff to properly discharge the responsibilities of a sponsor. In such an instance, such a sponsor must have at least one executive approved as an Approve Executive by the VFEX. In this instance, the VFEX will record whichever executive staff members have qualified for the Approved Executive classification, as well as the details of the other sponsor staff employed ("employment status"). The VFEX reserves the right to review such sponsor's status if and when there is any change to such sponsor's employment status, which must be notified to the VFEX within 48 hours of such change;

(b) Adequate supervision of staff—

(i) a sponsor must ensure that all staff who do not qualify for registration are supervised and managed by Approved Executives whenever they are involved in sponsor activities; and

(ii) a sponsor must have appropriate controls and procedures to ensure that staff involved in sponsor activities do not act beyond their authority;

(c) Sufficiency of staff: Arrangements must be in place to ensure that a sufficient number of Approved Executives are always available to ensure that the sponsor's responsibilities are properly discharged at all times;

(d) Independence—

(i) a sponsor must provide an undertaking that it will not act as a sponsor to any organisation of which it is not independent (except with the specific approval of the VFEX);

(ii) a sponsor must confirm its independence for each corporate action in which it acts as a sponsor by completing the Seventeenth Schedule and submitting the same to the VFEX. A sponsor must also ensure that it is independent of any client to whom it provides sponsor services, but which will not necessarily become the subject of a corporate action and will not require the completion of the Seventeenth Schedule;

(iii) the question of a sponsor's independence must be determined in respect of each corporate action;

(iv) in exercising its independence, a sponsor may not control, be controlled by, or be under the same control as an issuer unless the sponsor is acting as a joint and non-lead sponsor:

Provided that the above will not apply to investment entities where the sponsor's interest arises by virtue of the holdings of its non-managed discretionary clients;

(v) a normal business relationship between an issuer and any company which is part of the sponsor's group will not usually prohibit a potential sponsor from acting, however, relationships that would give the sponsor's group a material interest in the success of a listing, or other corporate action may result in the sponsor not being independent, and, in such instances, the VFEX must be consulted;

(v) a sponsor may be the auditor or tax adviser or the reporting accountant to the issuer, provided the VFEX is satisfied that there is an adequate segregation of roles within the sponsor's group;

(vi) any director or employee of the sponsor that has a significant interest in an issuer, being 3 per centum or more for purposes of this requirement, must not be involved in advisory activities of the sponsor in relation to such issuer;

(vii) an investment of three per centum or more in an issuer that is sponsored by a sponsor will result in such sponsor not being regarded as independent of such issuer unless the VFEX decides otherwise; and in any case of doubt, the VFEX must be consulted;

(viii) Notwithstanding the above requirements, the VFEX recognises that it is impossible to anticipate all circumstances under which a sponsor would be deemed not to be independent and accordingly reserves the right to determine the independence of a sponsor after having reviewed the declaration made by the sponsor in the Seventeenth Schedule.

The application process

20.3 Applications to become a sponsor must be made to the VFEX by submitting the sponsor application form (as set out in subparagraph 20.21).

20.4 An applicant will be required to nominate a person to act as the primary contact with the VFEX concerning the application.

20.5 The VFEX will advise the applicant of the result of the application in writing.

Register

20.6 A register of sponsors will be published by the VFEX.

Designations

20.7 A sponsor will be able, but not required, to state on its business documentation that it is a sponsor registered with the VFEX and may similarly disclose its approved executives.

Annual confirmation

20.8 Sponsors are required to advise the VFEX annually whether or not it still meets registration criteria.

20.9 Individuals who wish to remain as registered approved executives must submit an affidavit to the VFEX by no later than 31st January of each year confirming that they were actively involved in providing advice on the application of the Listings Requirements during the previous twelve months and that they will continue to do so in the next twelve months. Failure to make this submission will result in the removal of the individual from the register.

Issues affecting approved executive status

20.10 Whenever an Approved Executive of a sponsor resigns and moves employment to another sponsor, such person must notify the VFEX.

Issues affecting sponsor status

20.11 A sponsor, excluding sponsors appointed in terms of subparagraph 20.2 (a)(vi), must inform the VFEX within 48 hours, in writing, if any of its Approved Executives leave its employment) and, if such departure causes the sponsor to have less than three Approved Executives in its employ it will have a period of three months in which to conform with the eligibility criteria provided in paragraph 20.2 above, failing which (unless the VFEX provides dispensation in terms of subparagraph 20.2 (a)(vi) the sponsor's status will be suspended until such criteria are satisfied. The VFEX will publish such details of the suspension of sponsors.

20.12 A sponsor may resign as a sponsor by giving written notice to the VFEX and the relevant issuer.

20.13 If the departure of Approved Executives results in a sponsor no longer having any Approved Executives, the VFEX will suspend the sponsor's status, announcing the same through the VFEX website, until the sponsor meets the criteria outlined in subparagraph 20.2.

20.14 A sponsor must immediately notify the VFEX by e-mail and letter if any of the events below occur—

(a) any of the sponsor's Approved Executives are—

(i) convicted of an offence resulting from dishonesty, fraud or embezzlement;

(ii) censured or fined by a self-regulatory organisation, or recognised professional body;

(iii) barred from entry into any profession or occupation; or

(iv) convicted in any jurisdiction of any criminal offence involving dishonesty or fraud; or

(b) an approved executive ceases to meet the criteria for the approved executive classification.

20.15 Failure to make full and timely disclosure to the VFEX may result in disciplinary action against the sponsor.

Procedures for submission of corporate actions

23.3 All documents submitted to the VFEX must be in PDF and all corporate actions, irrespective of the length or nature must be submitted in Bona Fide PDF form. Key features of the Bona PDF document are—

(a) It is submitted from an authorised corporate email address of the listed company, its advisors or securities dealers in compliance with the Listing Rules;

(b) It is accompanied by a covering letter, which letter must be signed by an authorised Investor Relations Officer: this letter will not be published online;

(c) The text needs to incorporate the email, landline and mobile phone of at least 2 authorised officials of the VFEX to enable quick follow up if required;

(d) The content of the announcement should be text searchable for the benefit of the readers. Image based PDFs are not permitted by the VFEX as non-text searchable documents do not promote easy data access by investors;

(e) The PDF should be optimised and not of a large file size to make downloading and viewing online easy;

(f)The Investor Relations Officer is required to acknowledge that the announcement will not be published in the press before it appears on the VFEX website;

Summary text for the bona fide pdf document

23.5. The VFEX website enables investors to opt in to receive emails of corporate and regulatory press releases.

Rather than just sending out links to the Bona Fide PDF by email, where the content may not be immediately readable, the VFEX will alert the reader of the emails by a summary one paragraph text extract or summary of the announcement in the body of the email.

Initially this text will be generated by the VFEX be accompanied by a disclaimer saying that full information should be sourced from the attachment, the VFEX website and other sources of information for example the relevant company's website.

Publication through the VFEX securities exchange website must be before any other media.

Reminders will be sent out by the VFEX

Listed companies are required to ensure that their own procedures are fully compliant with these rules and the VFEX will not accept any liability or responsibility for the non-receipt of these reminders as they are sent purely to increase awareness of the document submission procedures.

General requirements

33.11 (1) All parties involved in negotiations should aim at the ideal situation, that is, that negotiations should be carried out in such confidentiality that no suspension would be necessary and the company would be able at the conclusion of the negotiations to make an announcement giving full details of the transaction.

(2) If the situation described in subparagraph (1) above is not attainable the parties must submit to the VFEX a draft announcement for approval. Such announcement, which must be published as soon as possible, should contain all available details regarding the negotiations and a warning to shareholders that they should consult their professional advisers before dealing in their shares until such time as the result of the negotiations is known. In these circumstances no suspension will normally be necessary, but where a brief suspension occurs because of factors such as price fluctuations, the listing will usually be restored on publication of the announcement.

(3) Any other suspension of a listing, at the request of a company, will only occur in very exceptional circumstances, and then for the briefest possible period.

(4) In all instances where a preliminary announcement has been published the parties concerned must publish a progress report every 28 days until negotiations have been finalised whereupon an announcement giving full details must be published.

(5) Companies should ensure that when negotiations commence, the attention of all directors and members of staff involved should be drawn to prohibiting insider trading.

(6) The VFEX will normally require that bankers or Auditors be requested to make a statement to the effect that a transaction is considered to be fair and reasonable in circumstances where—

(a) the parties concerned in the transaction are not at arms' length;

(b) any special circumstances exist where the VFEX is of the opinion that the auditor's opinion is required.
